

2,000 AWAITING RESCUE FROM RISING WATERS

$138,000 IN WORK AT DIXON'S STATE HOSPITAL DELAYED

Is Part Of Improvement Program Of State Postponed

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 18—(UP)—Financial paralysis of the functions of government in Chicago were partially extended to the state government today with the announcement by Governor L. L. Emmerson that because of failure of Chicago to pay the state its share of Chicago taxes, the state would be forced to postpone the bulk of its permanent improvement program for the 1931-1932 biennium indefinitely.

Emmerson's statement, issued on the eve of the reconvening of a special session of the Illinois state legislature which is to resume consideration of measures intended to afford financial relief to Chicago and the state, declared the decision to postpone the state's improvement program was "due to lack of money in the general revenue fund of the state Treasury, resulting from Chicago's and Cook county's failure to pay their state taxes."

Taxes owed the state by Cook county and Chicago, he said, total $42,000,000.

Improvements Needed

Approximately $4,543,000 worth of "badly needed improvements at state institutions" it was said, will be halted as a result of the postponing of the program. The decision, however, it was explained, will not interfere with the continuation of a program calling for the construction of approximately $2,000,000 worth of projects that have already been started.

The decision to continue with present construction, it was said, was taken because to halt work now "will entail serious losses." Considerable work now underway, it was said, involves that being done by convict labor at state penal institutions, particularly those projects underway at Joliet prison and at the Vandalla state penal farm.

Emmerson's announcement of the decision to postpone work on the bulk of the permanent improvement program, read as follows:

Burden Is Great

"Throughout this administration strict economy has been practiced," millions of dollars have been saved the state. But the burden of carrying Chicago's and Cook county's rapidly accumulating debt to the state Treasury has become too heavy for us. So the State Auditor has informed me, to do much more than pay for the state government's routine operating expenses.

According to the State Auditor's analysis of the situation, Chicago and Cook county now owe the state $25,000,000. This does not take into consideration another $17,000,000, which, under ordinary circumstances, Chicago and Cook county would now be owing the state for 1931 taxes, payable in 1932.

Projects Held Up

Among the more important projects that will be held up are a $300,000 training school building for the Western Illinois State Teachers' College at Macomb; new buildings costing $1,526,000 for the state hospital at Joliet; two buildings costing $120,000 for ex-service men, one at Alton state hospital, and the other at East Moline state hospital; five cottages, costing $175,000, for the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans Home at Normal.

The amount of proposed construction work postponed at each of the state institutions, follows:

Alton state hospital	$246,700.00
Anna state hospital	168,000.00
Chicago state hospital	183,000.00
Dixon state hospital	138,000.00
East Moline state hospital	80,000.00
Elgin state hospital	498,500.00
Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary	8,500.00
Illinois School for Deaf and Dumb	50,000.00
Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Children's school	203,800.00
Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Home	65,000.00
Illinois state penitentiary	65,000.00
Illinois state reformatory	2,200.00
Jacksonville state hospital	301,870.00
Kankakee state hospital	72,300.00
Lincoln state school and colony	150,000.00
Manteno state hospital	1,526,214.27
Peoria state hospital	100,000.00
Research and educational hospital	57,000.00
Southern Illinois penitentiary	50,000.00
St. Charles school for boys	250,000.00
State Training school for girls	47,500.00

Some of the postponed projects were part of the program for modernizing and fireproofing antiquated buildings housing state wards.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

Montriel—The Eskimo's heaven and hell are both down under heaven, said Bishop A. Turquetil, is at the bottom of the sea, in a domain of the great Goddess of Nillayok; hell, in a bleak place of ice and snow full of vague terrors.

Chicago—William Forbes, 74, protected motorists from the speeding trains at a railroad crossing for twenty years. He was killed yesterday as he crossed the same tracks in his automobile on his way home.

Ossining—It was a tough break for Lewis E. Laws, Sing Sing Warden, when he fractured his right wrist last night. But it was tougher still for his employees. He will be unable to sign the prison pay checks. Steps have been taken to have some other person issue the payroll.

Rabat Morocco—Belgacem N'Gadi bandit chieftain, lost not only a lot of property and war materials when he fled Tafilalet, oasis in the face of a French attack, but he was forced to leave all his wives behind him.

Ferrol, Spain—Churches tolling bells will be taxed and the hours they may toll them will be restricted so as not to disturb sleepers, the city council has decided.

New York—The fragment of a chicken heart embryo placed in a test tube at the Rockefeller Institute of Medicine Research in 1912 by Dr. Alexis Carrel, started its twenty-first year today on what Dr. Carrel said may well be perpetual life.

The only thing that prevents man from immortality, in the opinion of Dr. Carrel, is his possession of a brain and nervous system.

All cells of the human body, excepting the brain, he said, are possessed of the properties of continuous life.

GREW SELECTED AS AMBASSADOR TO TOKIO, JAPAN

Will Succeed Forbes As U. S. Representative In Orient

Washington, Jan. 18—(AP)—Joseph C. Grew of Hancock, N. H., Ambassador to Turkey since 1927, has been determined on by President Hoover as next Ambassador to Tokyo.

Grew is to succeed W. Cameron Forbes, who is expected to relinquish his post in Japan before long, although officials are anxious that he remain for the present in view of the delicate Manchurian situation.

Native of Boston, Grew is a "career" man; has spent practically his entire life in the diplomatic service, negotiated a treaty with Turkey back in 1923, has attended various important conferences and represented the United States in responsible posts.

As his successor at Ankara, Capital of Turkey, is being mentioned Jefferson Caffery, now Minister to Colombia, also known as an able diplomat.

For the still more important vacancy coming in the spring, the London Ambassadorship, former Senator Lawrence C. Phillips of Colorado is being strongly advocated. He would succeed Charles G. Dawes, who has announced his intention of resigning before even the Geneva general conference on disarmament is over.

Funeral Of David Gilbert Tuesday

(Telegraph Special Service.)

Polo, Jan. 18—The funeral of the late David M. Gilbert, life long resident of Polo and vicinity, who passed away shortly after noon Saturday at this home in Polo will be held Tuesday. Services will be conducted from the Church of the Brethren at 2 o'clock by Rev. William E. Thompson, assisted by Rev. C. W. Stauffer, with interment in Fairmount. The deceased was born on a farm near Polo, May 2, 1858, and last December he and his wife celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

More than 10,000,000 persons attended big league ball games during the past season, admissions averaging 95 cents.

UNIDENTIFIED BANDIT KILLED BY DETECTIVES AT DAVIS JUNCTION

Rockford, Ill., Jan. 18—(UP)—An unidentified bandit was dead today and two detectives wounded after a gun battle in a railroad station at Davis Junction, 16 miles south of here.

The detectives, officers of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul & Pacific Railroad, started to question the man when he suddenly whipped out two revolvers and started shooting. Detective Leo M. Barry was shot

KENTUCKY FEUD CAUSE OF DEATH OF PARTICIPANTS

Strife and Family Disagreements Result In Ten Deaths

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 18—(AP)—Feudal strife and family quarrels flared in Kentucky over the weekend and a series of pistol fights left ten dead and five wounded.

A church meeting at New Salem, in the foothills of the Cumberland, took four lives in the long-standing feud between the Crook and Johnson families. Two brothers of the Johnson clan and two of the Crook men were slain late Saturday in a renewal of a disagreement over the 17-year-old sister of the Crooks. Two other Johnson men were badly wounded.

The dead were: Homer Crook, T. Forrest Crook, Henry Johnson and Earl Johnson. Willie Johnson was wounded and his cousin Henry was reported dying today. Willie Johnson was accused of wronging the Crook girl.

In adjoining Knox county, two men grasped hands and fought a duel to settle an old quarrel. Both were killed. They met on Cold Fork Creek, 18 miles back in the mountains and a man named Gambrell was killed and Walter Smith was shot three times and died today.

Sheriff N. J. Tipton of Rockcastle county was shot to death in a quarrel with Hunter Burchell, guard at the state reformatory. The men had been enemies for some time.

Hayden McFarlin shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Zedna McFarlin, wounded his brother-in-law then he committed suicide at Franklin.

At Bowling Green Jack Warren, a roadhouse proprietor, was accused of the shotgun slaying of Gugh M. Beckham in an attempt to break up a quarrel between Beckham and another.

Noah Johnson and Willie M. Adkins disappeared from the street at Hellier, Pike county, and both were shot, Johnson seriously.

ARMY AIRPLANES TAKE RATIONS TO STARVING INDIANS

Drop Food To Redmen Marooned By Snow Since December

BULLETIN.

San Jose, Calif., Jan. 18—(UP)—Three men snowbound in the Mount Hamilton range near here thwarted starvation today when food was dropped to them from airplanes.

Stanley Stonier and George Ledet, both 19, who have been on a long trapping excursion, received food from a plane piloted by James Stonier, brother of Stanley. The Ledet youth's father had been bringing them food each week but deep snows halted his trips.

Winslow, Ariz., Jan. 18—(UP)—Arizona's first flying breadline took off today for its second day of reclaiming several thousand starving Indians.

Loaded with 5,000 pounds of emergency rations, six big bombing planes cruised over three Navajo reservations in Arizona and New Mexico, inhabitants of which have been cut off from any considerable source of food since December snows.

Seldom finding landings possible on the rolling, frozen plateaus, riven with deep canyons, the pilots, flew low over settlements and dropped burlap-wrapped packages of food.

They told how natives fell upon the packages, tearing them open and dancing for joy at the sight of such manna from the skies as flour, sugar, beans and canned bully-beef.

In one settlement, the package landed in a deep snowdrift. Men, women and children burrowed after it and ripped it open, paying scant attention to the departing plane, an apparition many of the children never had seen before.

"Bomb Exploded."

In another, the friendly bomb "exploded" on a spur of rock and showered the ground with food. Over his shoulder, the pilot saw the natives scoop it up with their hands and a

CHECKS USED IN LIQUOR DEALINGS TRACED BY GOV'T.

Former Sheriff Whiteside County Again Accused In Court

Chicago, Jan. 18—(AP)—Two cashier's checks purchased by a Des Moines business man, made out to a Cedar Rapids, Ia., bootlegger and endorsed by a federal prohibition agent were identified in federal court as the midwest liquor conspiracy trial was resumed today.

Fay C. Davis, Auditor of the Iowa Des Moines National Bank & Trust Company, testified the checks were purchased by John W. Pooley of the Spencer-Kellogg Company, Des Moines. They were made out to Joe Jerabek and endorsed by Walter E. Bennett, special agent in charge of the government's investigation of the case against 46 defendants.

One, dated May 20, 1931, was for $150. The other, dated nine days later, was for $175. T. J. Jines, Assistant Cashier of the bank, issued the checks, Davis testified. Pooley stopped payment on one of them, the defense showed on cross-examination. They did not show why. The government did not at once show the nature of the transaction.

Later the government explained that the checks were purchased by Pooley at the request of Cleor Hittsman, federal prohibition agent at Chicago, who wanted the checks drawn on a Des Moines bank in order to facilitate purchase of liquor for prosecution purposes.

The name of Joe Jerabek, the prosecutors said, was an improvisation on that of Paul Jerabek, Cedar Rapids bootlegger who testified against Mike Blumberg of Clinton, Ia., one of the defendants, when he was convicted of similar charges in Peoria recently.

Daniel Anderson, Assistant United States District Attorney, said he would prove the government bought $2,000 worth of liquor from various defendants.

Elsen Resumes Stand

Clarence Elsen, alleged aide of Blumberg in his liquor operations continued testifying for the prosecution today. He said Blumberg had an agreement with former Sheriff Gerald Kelly of Whiteside county, Illinois, across the Mississippi from Clinton, by which his liquor trucks would not be halted. He said Kelly remonstrated once with Blumberg, accusing him of assuming similar privileges for trucks of other dealers.

"Blumberg engaged Kelly in a dispute while I drove off with the truck," Elsen said. He described his own arrest for vagrancy in Whiteside county in the summer of 1928 and said Blumberg personally unlocked his jail door and released him after an argument over his bond.

"He told me to get clean out of the country," said Elsen. "When I wasn't far enough away in a week he told me to try it again. I went to Texas, then to Hot Springs, Ark., where I ran out of money. Blumberg told me to come back, that things were getting hot for the boys in Whiteside county, so I returned. Then I was subpoenaed five times to be questioned by you (Anderson) before I finally agreed to talk."

It is reported that more than 40 per cent of the wealth of the United States is controlled by women.

OUR TAX MONEY

Why does our Honorable Mayor and City Commissioners refuse to act on a petition of nearly a thousand signers which was presented to the Council on Oct. 20th, 1931, protesting against employing outside talent to conduct and work with the proposed Municipal Band? Is it possible that they are betraying the people's trust in them by rather playing closed politics for future interests instead of the betterment of the citizens of the city of Dixon?

First, the Chairman of the Band Commission states that ninety per cent of the citizens of this city did not know what they were signing on the above petition, along with the Honorable Mayor's excuses. That, to our opinion, is casting a reflection on our signers' intelligence. Probably our congenial friend, Mr. Chairman, would enlighten us as to who the other ten per cent were that were considered in their right mind when signatures were attached. Do these gentlemen question the rights and judgment of these tax payers when it comes to an issue in which they are vitally concerned, or do they believe that their judgment is beyond reproach when it comes to dispensing the tax payers' money intelligently? Possibly the signers on this petition of protest were considered incompetent and do not deserve recognition.

Is it not high time that the people demand that money raised among them should stay at home as near as possible, and see that the planks in our politicians' platforms, such as "Dixon Jobs for Dixon People," are lived up to? The Dixon musicians have the city interests at heart and have done all in their power to get an interview with the commission to promote a band, we could all be proud of and which would reflect the progress we wish to attain, but have simply been ignored on the part of the Band commission when it comes to cooperation, and it still appears more difficult to get our Commissioners to act on matters even when a thousand tax payers' judgment is at stake.

If band ordinances cannot be drawn up correctly, along with other important matters, they at least could try and make an effort to keep our money here at home by employing our Dixon musicians who have the ability, thereby relieving a little of the unemployment problem. With due respect to the above we at least believe the Council has the power to get down to business on

CONFERENCE ON RAIL WAGES IS AGAIN DELAYED

Adjourned This Morn To Give Time To Study Proposals

Chicago, Jan. 18—(UP)—The conference between railway presidents and Brotherhood and union leaders took a recess today until 2 P. M., to give both sides more time to study the differences arising from the discussion of stabilization of employment and other proposals made by the labor group.

Although both sides insisted nothing definite had been decided, indications were that the managements were unfavorable to some portions of the labor program, but friendly to other proposals.

The labor program was advanced as a counter proposal to the suggestion of a voluntary ten per cent reduction in wages with the implication that, if the presidents agree to it, or a large part of it, labor would be willing to take the wage cut for one year.

The unions asked, among other things, that the roads promise full time employment to at least a minimum force for one year and a definite amount of employment to the railway industry but it was understood that this was one of the matters referred to when the labor spokesmen said "on some things they (the presidents) did not go as far as we hoped they would."

The attitude of the presidents regarding the six hour day was believed to be even less satisfactory to the union heads. The labor group had asked that a commission be formed to study the ways and means of applying the six hour day to the railway industry but it was reported that the presidents reiterated the usual objections of the managements to such a plan.

DIXON MUSICIANS PROTEST AGAINST COMMISSION ACTS

Present Open Letter For Publication In Telegraph

The band controversy has broken out again with a public letter in protest to the city administration over the employment by the band commission of an outsider as band leader. The letter, which has been presented to The Telegraph for publication, is as follows:

AMBOY BUSINESS MAN BOUND AND ROBBED SATURDAY

Fred Binder Relieved Of $40 After Being Tied To Phone Post

Fred Binder, proprietor of the A. & P. store in Amboy, was trussed to a telephone pole with baling wire in an alley in the business district of Amboy Saturday night by two youthful bandits, who flourished revolvers as they nervously robbed him of $40 and ran away from the scene. Two youthful suspects were taken in custody this morning by Night Marshal Paul Lenihan of Amboy and turned over to Deputy Ward Miller who went to Amboy early today to conduct an investigation. The pair were brought to the county jail in Dixon where they are being temporarily detained. They claim Cicero and Chicago as their homes.

Mr. Binder had closed the store and was on his way to his home. At the rear of the skating rink, he stopped momentarily to look in a window at the rink where a dance was in progress, when two men approached him, both flourishing revolvers. The customary command "Hands up" was given by the smaller of the two men, and Binder was shoved against a telephone pole in the alley, where his legs were bound to the pole. He was then told to place his hands behind him and his arms were bound, after which the pair ransacked his pockets.

A large bill fold containing lodge cards and business papers and a smaller leather purse containing eight five dollar bills were removed from Binder's pockets, after which the pair ran from the scene. Binder was able to release himself and hurried to the Keiffer hotel where he informed the Amboy police of the holdup.

Followed Clerk.

A Chicago car in which two young men were riding was seen parked in front of the store during the evening, the occupants remaining in the car. Another employe in the store who had started home earlier, reported that two men answering the same description had followed him, but he suspected that they intended to hold him up he ran some distance after hearing one of the strangers state that it was too tight.

The two men who are held at the county jail, were staying in Amboy and a visit to their room this morning led to the recovery of a .22-caliber revolver and a box of cartridges. Both denied any knowledge of the robbery.

James Pettinger Died Early Today

James Pettinger, resident of this city for about seven years and previously a resident of the vicinity of Ashton, passed away at his home 504 Nachusa Avenue at 12:30 this morning after an illness of several months.

The deceased was born at Newark, N. J., June 7, 1867. He was united in marriage to Sarah Smith, December 25th, 1890. He is survived by his wife and three sons and one daughter, whose names are as follows: Lloyd, Arthur, Glenn and Ollie. One son preceded him in death four years ago.

There are three brothers and two sisters.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon from the Jones funeral home at 2 P. M., and at St. Paul's Lutheran church at 2:30. Interment will be in the Oakwood Cemetery.

Frank Wilson To Run For Assembly

Frank B. Wilson, residing north of Woodson on state highway, route 26, well known in Dixon and Past Commanders of Dixon Commandery, No. 21, Knights Templar and prominent in Masonic circles, will be a candidate for state assemblyman, according to an announcement given out by Dr. A. B. Culhane, leader of the Winnebago county Democratic organization late Saturday. Mr. Wilson is the present supervisor of Woodson township in Ogle county and has been prominent in democratic politics in that county for several years.

GERMAN ELECTION.

Berlin, Jan. 18—(UP)—The government plans to hold presidential elections on February 28, it was announced today.

Germany leads the world in production of synthetic camphor, followed by Italy and France.

STATE MUST DEPEND ON DEFENDANT IN MURDER CASE TO CONVICT SELF

Chicago, Jan. 18 (UP)—A strange murder case in which the state must rely on the defendants to establish the corpus delicti was ordered for trial today before Judge Walter T. Stanton.

If the trial is to proceed, state's attorneys admit John Chorak, the defendant, must admit that the body of a woman found stuffed in a manhole is that of his wife Emily, whom he is charged with slaying.

No one has ever identified the body and it bore no identification marks. However, the state contends Chorak admitted the killing in a confession when arrested at Beaver Dam, Wis.

Should Chorak refuse to make the necessary identification Assistant State's Attorney Mal Coughlan said he did not see how he could even prove that Mrs. Chorak is dead.

In Congress Today

Washington, Jan. 18—(UP)—The $2,000,000,000 Reconstruction Finance Corporation through which the administration hopes to revitalize American business met further delay in Congress today.

Both House and Senate have passed bills to set up the high credit project. President Hoover is ready to name the men to direct it. But the bills are different and must be adjusted by conferences between House and Senate. Beginning of these conferences was impeded by parliamentary objections Saturday by Senator Blaine, Repn. Wis., and today by Senator Couzens, Repn. Mich.

The administration measure to aid the Federal Land Banks fared better. This also had been passed by both houses. House conferees today accepted a Senate amendment increasing to $125,000,000 the amount of new federal capital to be given the banks. A Senate sub-committee approved the LaFollette-Costigan bill to provide $375,000,000 of federal funds for measure unemployment relief. The full Senate Finance committee, where administration leaders will try to kill it. A bill recently passed by the Senate to give Farm Board wheat to relief agencies appeared to have been sidetracked in the House.

Officially before the Senate was a deficiency appropriation bill providing more than $100,000,000 of added funds for government operations this year. The House took up the measure appropriating $450,000 for the American delegation to the Geneva disarmament conference.
The first of next year's regular appropriation bills was reported to the House, bringing nearer the expected battle for more stringent economy. The bill asks $175,000,000 for the Agriculture Department, $60,000,000 less than last year.

Committee hearings were dominated by the appearance of Governor "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma. The picturesque westerner went before the House Ways and Means committee to ask that the states be empowered to establish banks to provide credit for farmers. He held such banks were necessary because, he said, the Federal Reserve System is operated in the interests of speculators and big city banks.

Lawyer Charles A. Boston of New York told the Senate floor committee that the 18th Amendment and Volstead act should be repealed because they had promoted violence and contempt for law. Rep. Dyer, Rep. Mo., estimated there are 220,000 speakeasies in the country.

Bills to restrict short selling of wheat and cotton were advocated before the House Agriculture committee. Witnesses declared present regulatory measures were worthless. Efforts of the Shipping Board to build up the American merchant Marine were defended by Chairman T. V. O'Connor, who was summoned in a House committee investigation of the board's operations.

A member of the House Judiciary committee asked Secretary of Treasury Mellon's attorney to present a list of Mellon's stock holdings. The committee is considering a resolution calling for Mellon's impeachment because he allegedly violated an old statute forbidding the Treasury Secretary to engage in business.

child put what the pilot supposed to. One landing was made near a cluster of hogans in New Mexico. The bear sugar into its mouth.

"Nine, maybe 10 days," the pilot asked a gaunt old buck how long since he had eaten. He grunted: "How do you keep alive?" The old man grunted again.

"A Navajo can keep alive without beans and meat and flour, but he'd rather not have to try."

The 20,000 or more inhabitants of an area 200 by 125 miles were cut off late in December from nearby towns, and subsequent snows isolated them from outlying trading posts.

When word came to Winslow that the trading posts themselves were running out of food, the Department of Indian Affairs was notified and the planes were dispatched yesterday from March Field, Calif.

Some 18,000 pounds of rations were assembled, of which half or more will have been distributed by nightfall. Army officers here who kept in communication with the planes by radio, said they thought danger of actual starvation had been removed.

ANTI-SALOONISTS
TOLD HOOVER IS A "SINCERE DRY"

Delegates To Convention Of Drys Cheer The President

Washington, Jan. 18—(UP)—President Hoover was cheered wildly today at the Anti-Saloon League convention when he was referred to as "a sincere dry."

The Rev. John H. Phillips of Hartford, Conn., told the convention that with Mr. Hoover in the White House the dry "can hold the fort until the DuPonts and John J. Raskobs get tired of throwing their money away."

The delegates arose and cheered enthusiastically.
The Rev. Henry H. Crane, Scranton, Pa., pleaded for an "awakening" to prohibition as a moral, rather than an economical, industrial or political issue.

The Canadian system of controlling liquor traffic, put forward by many anti-prohibitionists as a method which the United States should follow, was described as a failure by two Canadian temperance workers who addressed the convention.

Ira A. Pierce, secretary of the Quebec League Against Alcoholism, said that consumption of hard liquor in Quebec has increased 38 per cent in the past six years. The increase for wine and beer was 123 per cent, he said.

Pierce told the convention that there is an overwhelming opinion in favor of a change, but that the press "suppresses this expression of discontent."

A. H. Jarvis of Ottawa told the delegates that temperance advocates in his city were "sound asleep."

He cited government liquor board figures showing expenditures of $52,000,000—a million dollars a week—for liquor in Ontario alone.

Deputies On Guard Over Four Bandits
Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 18—(AP)—Four youths, said by police to be members of the "42" gang of Chicago, were last night placed under a guard of deputy sheriffs armed with machine guns, following a report that their friends were incensed over the verdict by which they were convicted of a $150,000 jewel robbery.

The four, Frank Tuffano, Paul T. Rossie, Nick Macenias and Joseph I. Perello, were convicted Saturday night of robbing 12 guests and the host at the Lake Forest home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mitchell last November. Judge Ralph J. Dady will sentence them Friday to the one year to life fixed by law.

Several Killed, Many Arrested For Part In Revolution

Bombay, India, Jan. 18—(AP)—One person was killed and another was wounded today in the village of Gujar, near Peshawar, when police fired into a crowd of 500 natives who had attacked them with stones after the arrest of six local leaders of the Congress party.

Saturday at Berhampore in Bengal one person was killed and two wounded when police fired on a mob.

At least two score more of Mahatma Gandhi's Nationalist followers, including a group of fourteen pretty, saffron-clad Beshseika girl picketers, were jailed by the government as it continued its repression of the civil disobedience campaign.

The fourteen girls were arrested outside the government mint for trying to prevent the shipment of gold to the United States and to England where it has been flowing in a steady stream recently.

The news of these arrests caused great excitement in the bazaars and other girls immediately took the picketers' places.

Penalties for making salt range up to two years imprisonment at hard labor.

Syed Abdullah Brevli, editor of the Bombay Chronicle most important Nationalist newspaper in India, and a close friend of Gandhi was sentenced to two years imprisonment at hard labor for ignoring an order requiring him to report daily to the police. He said his self-respect, dignity and pride would not allow him to make the report like an "ordinary criminal."

CONFERENCE ON FINANCE BILLS
DUE THIS WEEK

The Senate Takes Up Measure Enacted By Lower House

Washington, Jan. 18—(AP)—The Senate today took up the House Reconstruction Finance Corporation bill preparatory to sending the legislation to conference for adjustment of differences between the Senate and House.

Simultaneously, to a separate conference, went the second item in the emergency economic program, the bill for increasing the capital of the Federal Land Banks.

Both plans should be working by the week end, for President Hoover and the Treasury are awaiting the moment when they can turn loose the millions which will go to business and agriculture through their operations.

A lone objector, Senator Blaine (Rep. Wis.) Saturday prevented the taking of necessary steps to start the conference. The Senate parliamentary system, however, will not permit one-man blocking of the measure today.

The rest of the emergency program is pressing close behind these two bills, with committee hearings continuing in both branches on the Home Loan Banking System proposed by Mr. Hoover and the establishment of another government corporation to release through loans, deposits in closed banks.

Brooklyn Twp. Lady Died Last Saturday
(Telegraph Special Service)
Amboy, Jan. 18—Miss Caroline Longbein, daughter of Jacob and Catherine Eichler Longbein, was born in Brooklyn township, September 17, 1901, and passed away Saturday, January 16, 1932, at Elgin, Ill., after a long illness of pulmonary tuberculosis. She was 30 years of age.

The remains were taken to the home south of West Brooklyn where funeral services will be held from the residence Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and at 10 o'clock from the Perkins' Grove church after which interment will be made at Restland cemetery at Mendota. She is survived by her parents, five sisters, two brothers and many friends.

Letter to Miss Zarger from English Girl

Miss Betty Zarger, a Dixon girl scout has received the following letter from an English girl, a "guide," as they call them over there, instead of a "scout." Miss Zarger generously shares her letter with our readers as follows:

47, Oakfield Road,
Stroud Green, N. 4,
Middlesex, England.

Dear Miss Zarger,
As I desired to correspond with a Girl Scout in U. S. A. I wrote up to "The Guide" and in reply received your name and address.
Well now I suppose I had better describe myself. I was 17 years old in July last and am still a Guide. I am the Harebell Patrol Leader in our Company, which is a fairly large one. We have five patrols—all named after flowers—Violets, Irises, Snowdrops, Forget-me-nots and Harebells. We have a very young and jolly Captain and one awfully nice Lieutenant. The Patrols consist of about eight guides, including the Leader and her Second. It is the Second's duty to assist the Leader with the work of the Patrol.

We meet once a week—on a Friday at 7:00 until 9:30, in a very nice large hall. Of course we are all expected to wear our uniforms: they consist of a navy blue dress with 2 pockets, a large flat navy hat, pale blue tie, and the official Guide belt. Then on our uniforms we wear our shoulder tape stating what Company we are, such as ours which is "2nd Harringway Guides." We also have our Patrol emblem over the top pocket on our left side. Service Stars (obtained by making 95 per cent attendance per year) are of a silver colour and are worn below the emblem. Patrol Leaders wear two white stripes on their left sleeve and Second one. On our left sleeve we wear our 2nd class badge, also the Sick Nurse and Ambulance Badges if we go in for them. The other proficiency badges are worn on the right arm.

We have Church Parade every third Sunday in the month. We meet at our hall and march through the streets with our King's Colour (that is the Union Jack) and our Guide Flag, to the church. There we have seats reserved for us and our flags are placed by the Altar by our Vicar for the service. The flags are carried by one Guide and one Ranger, and three Guides who walk behind them are called the "Colour party." The Brownies and Rangers always parade with us. The Brownies are children to young to be Guides and Rangers are people over the Guide age. I should have been a Ranger long ago, but as they hold their weekly meetings on Thursdays when I have evening classes, I cannot go; so was allowed to stay in the Guides a little longer.

Our weekly meetings generally consist of the following:
A game (to give the late comers a chance to get ready.)
Roll Call where the Leaders take the weekly subscriptions and mark the register.
Squad Drill Another game or competition.

A talk or story by Captain.
Then prayers and "Taps."
Do you know "Taps"? It is "Day is done, gone the sun from the sea, from the hills, from the sky. All is well, safely rest, God is night." I think the words are beautiful and we sing them to a sweet tune. It is the Guides own "Good-night."

My patrol were getting fearful hard up for money and we wondered what we could do. So about a fortnight ago we all made some sweets at home including Fruit Toffee, Plain Toffee, Turkish Delight, Cream and Stuffed Dates. These we sold to the Guides and made a clear profit of 7s. 6d. We were fearfully pleased and with the money we buy things that we need for the patrol, like pencils, string, balls, etc. etc.

I live very near to London, in a private house with my mother, father and sister. Pinnerbury Park, one of London's many parks is just at the bottom of our road. I will send you some snaps of St. Old Green later on.

I am also a Sunday school teacher at our church, which is Saint Paul's, Church of England. I had a class of 15 very nice boys about 12 years of age, but yesterday, (Sunday) being the end of the church's year, we changed classes and now I have only 12 boys and they are all new to me. I like the work very much.

I shall be so pleased to hear from you to hear all about the Girl Scouts in U. S. A. and to have some snaps if possible. I hope to write again shortly.

With every good wish from your new pen friend,
Yours Guidingly,
Elsie Wood.

Tetrazzini Is Billed as "Added Attraction," Now

Boston, Jan. 18—(UP)—Luisa Tetrazzini, whose debut as Lucia in Hammerstein's Manhattan opera damped a nation, whose farewell operatic appearance with Caruso, Homer, and Renaud, moved admirers to tears, made her debut here Friday as an "added attraction" in a "four-day talkie house."

The Songbird of Florence who once won that her voice had earned her $5,000 as a contemporary of Melba and Sembrich took her turn with the acrobats, wiser crackers and "ho-de-ho" singers playing for the applause of the galleries that once sent grape fruit whirling through the air at Rudy Vallee, the song-bird of Westbrook, Me.

Madame Tetrazzini, now 60, short, fat, jolly and lovable as ever, stood in the wings as the management announced it took "pride and pleasure in announcing the engagement extraordinary."

The "grand orchestra" played Garibaldi's rousing hymn, swung into the opening strains of "Caro Nome," coloratura favorite from Rigoletto.

The black curtains parted. The spotlight framed the figure of the singer on a little white raised step beside an inconspicuous piano.

Tetrazzini's girl-like soprano that once could take altissimo F, the F above high C, thrilled with the first strains of the old favorite she had sung hundreds of times.

She, whose memory had been her pride, kept her eyes downcast as she stared at a trembling bit of paper on which every word of the familiar song was written.

There was abundant applause as she finished the first song.

Her hearers noted a catch in the famous star's voice, and some there were who revived with her the memories of her quarter century on the stage.

They recalled her debut in "L'Arlecine" in Florence when 16 years old.

And just 23 years ago she stepped from the stage door of Hammerstein's Manhattan opera house to be greeted by a thousand hearers already in the street. They pelted her with flowers, they wept and hugged one another in their enthusiasm for her debut as Lucia.

Caruso, Madame Tetrazzini said a few weeks ago when she returned to this country, once asked her to marry—she who later tried a marriage with a man 20 years her junior.

"See," she said, "here are his cuff links, his watch and chain, his scarf pin that I wear in my memory."

Maybe she wore Caruso mementos Friday night. But the crowd drawn by the mixed appeal of an acrobatic act, a talkie, a comedian and a singer who offered them literally a "voice from the past," saw only the myriad of brilliant sequins that sparkled in the limelight on the gown of an opera star turned to trouper.

Accessories Are Enhanced by Contrast

The day is past when fashion accessories scrupulously matched the ensemble. Rather, they now enhance it by clever contrast.

The whole thing started when trig little brown frocks appeared sporting Persian green belts, Persian green collars, Persian green beads. The world of fashion gasped, but realized immediately the unlimited opportunity for individuality in this new idea of contrasting colors.

The little brown frocks were a success. Designers, emboldened, brought forth empire blue dresses with perky red belts, red flowers, red earrings. Bright blues appeared with contrasting skirts. Ingenious women, with a fair for color started experimenting with new color harmonies of their own.

As a result, there has never before been such an interesting variety in women's apparel.

Even finger tips, not to be outdone, are changing their color with the frock, the place, and the hour. Your efficient young business woman arrived at the office in trim woolen dresses, her slim fingers tipped with shining coral nails. In the evening, with the papers and cards of the day safely tucked away in her desk, she sallies forth mischievously radiant in black or white evening dress, with cardinal finger nails flashing like rubies. Sunday afternoon might find her in a demure mood wearing nails of still a different color, soft rose, perhaps, to make her pale frock seem by contrast, a deeper blue, green or orchid.

CO-EDS DECIDE IDEAL HUSBY MUST PACK THRILL

Albany, N. Y.—(UP)—The "ideal husband," as selected the co-eds at the State Teachers College in a questionnaire, not necessarily must be handsome—but, he must pack a thrill.

A majority of the young women specified "that looks don't mean a thing—that toleration and morals are more important."

Laura H. Styn, a junior, says her husband must be courteous, intellectual and "be able to thrill me continually." He needn't be rich, but a little money wouldn't hurt matters," she said.

A large, gruff athlete would be Violet Putnam's selection. "He must either be younger and more innocent than I, or else older and more experienced," she said.

Moving Day For Daughter of King and Queen

London—(UP)—It will be "moving day" soon for Princess Mary, only daughter of the King and Queen.

She and her husband, Lord Harewood and their two sons, Viscount Lascelles and the Hon. Gerald Lascelles, will go into residence in Grosvenor Square, in the heart of Mayfair.

The house is a present from the Queen to her daughter, although when Queen Mary purchased it last March there were many rumors that it was intended either for the Duke of Gloucester or Prince George.

The Earl of Harewood, one of the richest men in Great Britain, inherited a large fortune from the late Marquess of Clanricarde and after his marriage with Princess Mary, went into residence at the historic Chesterfield House, the former residence of the Earls of Chesterfield.

This mansion probably contains 100 rooms, including four or five picture galleries.

In recent years, Lord Harewood has been feeling the burden of increasing taxation, along with many other members of the peerage. Some time ago he was obliged to close Goldsbrough Hall, one of his Yorkshire seats and his country house before he succeeded to the earldom.

About a year ago he found it was becoming impossible for him to maintain Chesterfield House with its enormous responsibilities in the way of staff and upkeep. The Queen, with her characteristic practical knowledge, suggested finding a smaller residence, and finally purchased No. 32 Green Street, formerly the residence of T. O. M. Sopwith. It is an ordinary Mayfair house of about 20 rooms, which can be run by about eight servants at the most.

At the beginning of December, Lord Harewood announced his intention of selling Chesterfield House, and disposing of some of its art treasures. Goldsbrough Hall was already in the market.

Plans were made for a party to be held some time in the near future by the Messrs. Elgin, Bauer, Churchill and Popino in charge. Arrangements were also agreed upon to concur with the members of the Palmyra and Nelson Units to serve the dinner to the Farmers Co-operative Elevator Co. in Sterling in the near future.

As the Home Advisor, Mrs. Syverud was in attendance on the Farm and Home Week at Urbana, the lesson held over until the February meeting.

An enjoyable reading by Mrs. Popino closed a most enjoyable day.

C. C. Circle Election Officers and Anniversary Luncheon

Twenty members and guests of the Christian church C. C. Circle enjoyed a bounteous picnic dinner in the church parlors Friday, Jan. 15th, this being their 19th anniversary luncheon.

A business meeting was held after the dinner with election of officers for this year as follows:
President—Mrs. Carl Straw
Vice President—Mrs. J. E. Newcomb
Treasurer—Miss Florence Nettz
Secretary—Miss Nellie Rice

Each one present was asked to do a stunt of some kind, with the result that great talent was discovered in the many nursery rhymes, clever readings, solos and instrumental duets that were presented. A fortune-telling game was also cause for much merriment.

Resolutions for the 19th year are the same as in years past, "More efficient work and more faithful members."

Big League Night For Elks, Jan. 20th

Next Wednesday night, Jan. 20th, is to be the annual "Big League Night," the feature night of the year for Elks and their ladies. The evening will start with a chicken banquet at 6:30, at the club house.

At 7:30 the DeWillo Concert Co., featuring DeWillo Semerau and his concertina grande — a University of Wisconsin number. A high class attraction. 9 to 12 — dancing or cards.

The invitation card also reads: To our regret is only possible to seat 300 at the first table at 6:30 so make reservations early. No reservations will be accepted later than noon Tuesday, Jan. 19th.

W. M. S. TO MEET WITH MRS. YOUNG

By ALICIA HART

Health means beauty for the very young, and if you are a high school girl here are some rules for you to follow. You do not have to worry about lines, wrinkles, flabby skin and sagging muscles, and if you take good care of your self and your skin, while you are youthful, the chances are that you never will have to worry about them.

You need plenty of exercise. Walk to and from school if it's at all possible. Most schools offer gymnasium courses, and be sure that you enroll for as many of them as you can. Sleep and rest is another important item; you should get eight or nine hours of sleep each and every night.

Your daily bath is vastly important. You exercise violently, causing the pores in your skin to throw off body wastes which should be washed away each day. See that your hands, neck and ears are meticulously clean.

Your hair should be shampooed every two weeks. Brush it each night with a clean brush. It's an old and true rule that if you brush your hair conscientiously when you are young it will be thick, glossy and luxurious when you are older. Avoid hot irons on your hair. If it's straight, train it into becoming waves with warm water and your fingers, or just make up your mind that it is attractive the way it is and leave it alone.

Keep your nails fairly short and very clean. They can be filed smooth and the cuticle should be pushed back with the towel each time after you have washed your hands. Never cut the cuticle around your nails and you probably won't need any polish. At least a high polish is in bad taste in the school room.

Be sure that your teeth are always very clean. Healthy, flashing white teeth are an asset to your appearance always.

You won't need make-up on your face. Rouge is out of place and so is a heavy coating of powder. They only tend to cover up your natural coloring and skin texture. If you are going to a party and you are afraid that your nose will shine, put a thin film of powder on it just for the evening.

SQUARE-RIGGER APPEAL.

One of the oddest developments of the winter is the discovery that there are hundreds of boys in the United States and Canada who would give almost anything to be able to go to sea before the mast on a square-rigged sailing vessel.

There are still several square-riggers operating in the grain trade between Australia and England. A. J. Villiers, who owns one of them, has been trying to promote a race among these ships, and would like to get an American ship to take part also.

So far, however, he has had to spend about 75 per cent of his time answering letters from young men who would like to go along as seamen. From all parts of North America they have written to him, begging that they be signed on.

Some offer to pay for the privilege. College graduates have offered to sign on as cooks. Girls have threatened to become stowaways on the ships. All in all, it is obvious that the windjammer has an appeal which the steamship cannot possibly rival.

Now all of this is a bit puzzling, for there is no question that the steady disappearance of the sailing vessel has made life a whole lot easier for the sailors. The sailing ships were beautiful to look at, but life aboard was very often complete hell. The work was hard and the food was poor, dangers were many and living accommodations were, frequently, atrocious.

Discipline ranged all the way from merely strict to downright brutal. Read any of the books written by the sailor-writers, from Dana down through Conrad to Bone and Reisenberg, and you get a picture of a life that was almost unbelievably hard.

Now, after many centuries, that life has been largely relieved of its terrors. Steamship Jack is better paid, better housed, better fed and more decently treated than his predecessors ever were.

But the young men fall over themselves to get a taste of the hard old life and calmly ignore the pleasanter life of the steam-driven merchant marine!

The human race, evidently, does not mind hardship, danger and pain nearly as much as it likes to pretend.

BRYAN'S GHOST STALKS.

The ghost of William Jennings Bryan must have stalked restlessly through whatever part of the Elysian Fields are reserved for master politicians when Senator Wheeler arose the other day to propose the coinage of silver on a 16 to 1 ratio.

What memories that proposal stirs! The fiery campaign of 1896, when conservative businessmen quaked in their shoes at the thought of the "boy orator" from the Platte country; Mark Hanna and the first of the great campaign funds; Bryan's amazing "swing around the circle," with cheering crowds and torchlight processions under the prairie moon; William McKinley introducing the nation to the "front porch" campaign; a nation's discontent massing itself behind a man with a golden voice and a radical—was there ever a campaign like it?

The coming campaign will hardly swing on the free silver issue. But the revival of the issue at least arouses long dormant memories.

INDIA'S REBELLION.

It is quite evident that the British are approaching a final showdown in India. Gandhi lies in jail, and exceedingly strict repressive measures have been put into force by the English government. New troops are on the way, and the All-India National Congress and its affiliates have been outlawed.

Apparently, the British have embarked on a kill or cure program. Either they will thoroughly stamp out the fitfully burning independence movement, or they will lose out entirely and Mr. Gandhi's aims will be realized. After years of talk, decisive and violent action is about to begin.

The whole civilized world will await the outcome with keen interest. On the surface, the odds are overwhelmingly in favor of the British. But Gandhi wields a power that cannot accurately be measured in advance. If his foe make the mistake of underestimating it they will have ample reason to regret it.

The public has burned its fingers in the flames of wild speculation and has learned to fear the fire.—Gov. Roosevelt of New York.

After all, I can't be wakened at four in the morning to have the milkman ask for my autograph.—Joan Blondell, Movie Actress.

DIST. SERVICE

OFFICERS WILL MEET THURSDAY

Banquet And Conference Are Arranged At Polo At 6:30

In keeping with the extensive program outlined by The American Legion for its service work for the year 1931-32, George L. Spangler, District Commander of the American Legion, has arranged for a Service Officers' conference to be held at Polo, Illinois, Thursday at 8 P. M. o'clock. Plans have been completed so that a comprehensive program will be covered at this meeting and arrangements have been made for the Department Service Officer and officials of the Veterans Administration, Chicago, Illinois, and the Division, District and County Service Officers, to attend this conference. The veterans in the 13th District are urged and cordially invited to attend this meeting, as are the dependents of deceased veterans who may feel that they are not at present receiving all of the benefits provided for them by Federal laws.

Department Headquarters announces that the Department of Illinois won the most coveted trophy at National Convention among all the trophies given out at convention time—this is the National Service Trophy, awarded to the Department in the Legion having done the best job on service work during the current year. Illinois was able to show that the Service Department closed up 1,999 cases successfully and secure for veterans and the dependents of deceased veterans a grand total of $756,000 for the year of 1930-31. The Department of Illinois operates the most extensive and efficient Service Department maintained by any state organization of The American Legion.

It is hoped that every veteran and other interested persons in the 13th District will find it possible to attend this meeting and participate. In an active way, in the meeting itself.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

When we Carpy spied the flyers hat upon the doll he cried, "Gee, that is just what I would like to wear. I wonder if it will fit me. The aviation suit looks fine. I wonder if it is to large, I could wear it, I will not care a bit."

"Now, wait a minute," Scouty cried. "All of these doll suits can be tried. Come on and slip them on and we will see which look the best." Then Duncy said, "Sure! Try them all and discard those too large or those too small. We will tell you just how each one looks, as in them you are dressed."

The soldier suit, he tried on first turned out to be the very worst. It was so big that Carpy almost lost himself inside. "Hey, let me out of here," he cried. "The waist is higher than my head. All I can use this suit for is a dandy place to hide."

Then Duncy brought a girl doll out, which brought a laugh and merry shout. "I won't wear that," snapped we Carpy. "That doll only has a dress. It would look as foolish as could be. That is just for little girls you see. You know that I am a little boy. You are teasing me, I guess."

When all the other things were tried, once more the flyer's suit was spied. "Ah there is the one that I like the best," said Duncy. "Yes sicee" They helped him crawl right into it and found it was a perfect fit. Then Scouty said, "I think that you are as lucky as can be."

Of course Carpy promptly felt real proud. Said he, "In this I will be allowed to some day fly up in the wind. I know that I will be game." Then Scouty cried "You've changed your clothes and you look different, goodness knows. No longer will we call you Carpy! Windy is your name."

Whether the 90-year-old man shown at the left is really Jesse James, premier bandit and bank robber of post-Civil War days, is the perplexing problem facing Governor Henry S. Caulfield of Missouri. James, believed to have been killed in St. Joseph, Mo., in 1882, is shown at the right in a picture that is said to be his best likeness. ## AMBOY NEWS

By Frances Lepperd

Amboy—The high school basketball team lost their first conference games in the local gym Friday night. Both games were a close contest from beginning to finish.

The Amboy second team led most of their game and were defeated 9-8 in the final minutes by a free throw.

The first team game was equally full of action and the inability of the Amboy quintet to hit the basket when they had the opportunity was all that lost them the game as they showed up much better floor work than the visitors. The final score was Amboy 14; Morrison 18.

Last Man Of Last Man's Club Is Ill

Chamberlain, S. D., Jan. 16—(AP)—The last man of the Last Man's Club is ill.

Charles Lockwood, 89, only survivor of the Civil War veterans group, is suffering from a leg blood clot. Physicians said his condition was not critical, but that he would remain in bed a few months.

Thirty-four members of Company B, First Minnesota Infantry, formed the club at Stillwater, Minn., in 1864. They held banquets there annually on July 21, the anniversary of the battle of Bull Run.

FORTUNE FOUND IN MEXICAN CAVE AFTER CENTURIES

Archaeologists Discover
Princely Wealth In Mountain Top

Mexico City, Jan. 18.—(AP)—A princely fortune in gold and precious stones, a cache overlooked by Hernando Cortes and his conquistadores 400 years ago and said to rival the treasure found buried with King Tutankhamen in Egypt, lies today in the vaults of the Bank of Mexico.

It was found in the tomb of ten ancient Mixtecan Caciques, or feudal lords, in the fortified city of Monte Alban, high above Oaxaca, by Mexican archaeologists. The announcement caused a great buzz of prediction that the long-sought gold of the "lost cities" may at last await excavators' picks and shovels.

The treasure already uncovered consists of more than 100 specimens of all kinds ranging from heavy and finely-wrought gold crowns to pearls as large as pigeons' eggs. A half dozen old necklaces, said to be "an extremely minor part of the treasure," were valued at $500 each on their gold content alone.

Monte Alban, from which government archaeologists secretly removed the grand collection is really a fortified mountain top, and the excavators said they believed they have only scratched the surface of the ancient and magnificent ruins.

Alfonso Caso, chief government archaeologist, said it was the richest and most important discovery made in the new world, and that it will compare with, or excel, in value and importance, the discovery of Tutankhamen's tomb in Egypt several years ago.

Caso said the cache was contained in a tomb about 24 feet long, 5 feet high and 7 feet wide, in which the mummies of the caciques were entirely covered with the precious relics. His mission discovered the cemetery several weeks ago.

The tomb's doorway had been sealed from the inside and the burial party evidently left through the ceiling, which had been deftly covered over to prevent discovery. Quick realization of the value of the find was followed by greatest secrecy in its removal for safekeeping to the Bank of Mexico vault. It was only then that the discovery was made public.

A move already is under way to keep the discovery intact and house it in a museum which will be opened in April on the 400th anniversary of the founding of Oaxaca.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

ILLINOIS WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT

Frances E. Willard wrote the following resolution which was adopted at the National W. C. T. U. convention, held in Cleveland, Ohio in 1874:

"Recognizing the fact that our cause is and will be combated by mighty, determined and relentless foes, we will, trusting in Him who is the Prince of Peace, meet argument with argument, misjudgment with patience, denunciation with kindness, and all our difficulties and dangers with prayer."

Publicity is one of the greatest forces in the world today. W. C. T. U. workers use it to educate the masses, mold public sentiment for law enforcement and la observance, for no appeal or modification of the 18th amendment or the Volstead act. "Help Give Prohibition a Chance."

"Publicity, not Propaganda"—Publicity workers are anxious to get publicity for the cause they represent. To be successful it is essential that it be publicity not propaganda. Propaganda is more or less colored by the opinion of the writer, or the organization in which they are interested and seek to advance. It is difficult to present propaganda so disguised that intelligent people will not recognize it.

Publicity is the art of informing the public of the facts and truth of whatever we are interested in, and so we want to keep the public informed, not by propaganda but the steady piling up of fact evidence which constitutes publicity.

Publicity of this kind has won many battles for humanity, and especially in the W. C. T. U. work.

(Carrie Belle Swartz.)

Marilyn's Dad Wins Fame For Painting

Caro G. Miller, father of Marilyn Miller, film and stage star, has won a right to fame by his own efforts as a result of the enthusiastic reception accorded his painting of "Christ in Gethsemane" which he will present to a church at Gridley, Calif. He is shown here with the painting now almost finished. Miller, a former stage favorite, first took up painting seriously when he was recuperating from a long illness recently.

First Wireless Valve Was Edison Discovery

Many years ago Edison was experimenting with electric lamps, trying to discover how the blackening of the inside of the bulbs came about in those of the old carbon type. He found that if a plate of metal was sealed into the bulb and electrified positively, a current passed through the vacuum from the filament to this plate. He noticed that the current always traveled from the filament to the plate; nothing could make a current pass in the opposite direction.

He thought nothing of the discovery, and no use could be found for it, for it was many years before wireless was to be heard of.

Before we can hear anything of wireless signals the waves must be rectified. Each wave consists of a push of current in one direction followed by a pull in the other. Rectification means straining out the pulls and leaving only the pushes. All early methods of doing this were complicated and unsatisfactory.

Then Prof. J. A. Fleming had an inspiration. He made the first wireless valve in which a filament and a plate were placed in a vacuum inside a glass bulb.

The Edison effect was harnessed, for the valve would respond only to the pushes and automatically eliminated the pulls. But for the invention of the valve there would have been no broadcasting today.—London Tit-Bits.

Edison Dragged From Workshop to Wedding

Thomas A. Edison was so preoccupied with his laboratory work that he nearly missed his second wedding. This was recalled by Mrs. Franklin Ives, whose father, the late Benjamin Franklin Card, was associated with the great inventor for more than 30 years, says an article in the Brooklyn Eagle.

"The story of Edison's second wedding was one of my father's favorite recollections of him," Mrs. Ives said. "Edison was hard at work on a problem in his laboratory just before the wedding. He had become so preoccupied that he had quite forgotten time."

"Fifteen minutes before the appointed hour his 'best man' found him there utterly absorbed. He begged the inventor to dress and hurry to the wedding. Edison protested that he was on the verge of a great discovery and couldn't possibly leave. Finally, almost by main force, his 'best man' succeeded in dressing him and getting him to the church—a little late and still preoccupied, but at least acquiescent."

British Trade Building in New York

The British flag will fly over this building, one of the group which will comprise the New York development known as Radio City, when it is completed for occupancy in 1933. A British trade syndicate has signed the lease, and the structure will be rented by English banking and industrial concerns, as well as several British Government offices.

What A Nightmare!

If common house flies get this large, you'll hunt them with an elephant gun instead of a fly swatter. But this is just a model, prepared by U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists. It was built after careful study of flies under a microscope and contains every detail even to the hundreds of small spines or hairs, which cover the body. The model is mechanical and goes through the movements of eating.

Leavenworth Guard Held As Smuggler

Leavenworth, Kas., Jan. 16.—(AP)—C. E. Carlson, a guard at the Federal penitentiary here, was under arrest today charged with smuggling contraband into the prison.

Acting Warden Fred Zerbst said the guard's arrest had no connection with the recent sensational break of seven prisoners which ended in the death of three, the recapture of four and the wounding of Warden T. B. White.

Carlson was arrested on a warrant sworn to by Warden Zerbst. Specifically the guard was charged with carrying letters out of the penitentiary and returning money to convicts.

He was arrested by Warden Zerbst and a Department of Justice operative who has been at the prison investigating the break. Carlson was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner J. K. Coddling and held in the county jail in default of $7,500 bail.

Carlson, who was transferred to the Leavenworth prison from McNeil Island, Wash., a year ago, refused to make a statement on the advice of his attorney.

DIXON QUINTETS EASY FOR ROCK FALLS SATURDAY

First Team Played Ragged Basketball In Saturday's Game

BY DON HILLIKER

Displaying a ragged game of basketball the Dixon high school team fell to its third defeat of the year, Saturday. Rock Falls had little difficulty winning by 20-10. The visiting second team won over the locals 16-10. Dixon continues its conference schedule in a twin meeting with Belvidere here Friday.

A Hunsberger and Calligan were the scoring aces of the evening, getting seventeen of the twenty points. Hunsberger had three baskets and an equal total of free shots. Calligan made two baskets and four free throws. Next in the scoring was Strong with a basket and two free throws. Strong played a great defensive game holding Corzett, who had made fifteen points against Dixon earlier this year, to a few wild shots at the hoop.

The opening basket of the contest was a beautiful tip-in shot by A. Hunsberger. Calligan made a free throw. Henry duplicated Calligan's free toss. Hunsberger got another follow-in basket. Henry made a free shot. Calligan again tallied from the free throw line. On a foul by Corzett, Strong made a free throw to make the score 6-3. Rock Falls passed around Dixon, until Calligan was wide open under the net. He took the pass and sank the shot. Calligan followed with a basket from the free throw circle. Near the end of the half Strong dribbled down the side and shot. The basket was good and Strong made a free throw awarded when Corzett fouled him on the toss. This made the score at the half 10-6. After two minutes of play in the third period Corzett committed his fourth foul by Corzett. Strong made a free game. At this juncture it seemed that Dixon might get somewhere. However, toward the end of this quarter, Strong also received his fourth personal and left the contest. Dixon did not score in the third period while Rock Falls made five points. A. Hunsberger's basket and free throw and Calligan's two free heaves made it 15-6. G. Hunsberger's basket, two free throws by A. Hunsberger and a free toss by Knox gave Rock Falls its last points. Dixon did not score until the last four minutes when added baskets by Mitchell and Brown added four points. This completed the final score of 20-10.

Dixon had a great number of shots at the basket but were able to make only three of them good. In the free-shooting the locals made four of twelve heaves while Rock Falls gathered eight of fifteen.

B Teams
Underwood started the preliminary game with a nice shot from the side. Flanagan's free shot gave Dixon a 3-0 lead. Castle's free throw was Rock Falls' only score in the first quarter. In the second period Knox made two baskets and Walton and Castle got one each. Dixon totaled two points on Daniels' tip-in shot. The score at the half was 9-5. While Dixon did not score in the third quarter, Rock Falls made four scores on baskets by Castle and Walton. Ringers by Underwood and Hasselberg and a free toss by Nicholson gave Dixon its last points. Free throws by Castle, Yeager and Walton finished Rock Falls' scoring.

FROM THE DIXON RECREATION

Rule 23; Scoreboard Rules

In all so-called league games, a board score which is open to public view shall be kept by the players of each team, and a book score shall be kept by individual scorers appointed by the captains. The board score shall be the official score and the book score must agree with the board score at the finish of the game. After book score is signed by opposing captains and the scorers, it shall be declared the official score. No change shall be made in the scores during the progress of the game, unless for incompetence or by the mutual consent of both captains.

Rule 24; Penalty for Unfair Tactics
A member of a team or association whose team or association is engaged in playing a contest game, who shall either directly or indirectly tamper with the plays, pins, balls or in any manner whatsoever seek by unfair tactics to secure an advantage over his opponents, shall upon proof thereof, be forever disqualified from participating in any match or tournament game and the game in which such unfair advantage was so secured or attempted to be secured shall be declared forfeited by the umpire to the opposing team.

A member of any team, league or association, affiliated with the American Bowling Congress, shall be expelled from all forms of membership and participation in "games of tenpins" or the team, league or association, who has placed the game of tenpins in jeopardy of unfair criticism, and who has used unfair, dishonest or disreputable tactics in moral or business connections, or who has forfeited his honor in disposing of medals of any character, either city, state or national, unless he first applies to the Congress for permission to do so, and then allows the Congress to take action of either granting the request or redeeming the medals above referred to.

Rule 26; Penalty-Failure to Meet Schedule.
A team failing to meet its schedule, unless such failure shall be by some unavoidable cause, or by previous postponement as provided by the rules governing such cases, and in force in such tournaments, shall forfeit such scheduled games, and upon investigation of the case by the managing committee of such league association or tournament, unless satisfactory reasons can be assigned for such default, or the team shall be expelled from membership in such league, association or tournament as the case may be.

Rule 27; Penalty-Failure to Meet Schedule.
When a team or league is expelled, all games played by it in such tournament shall be null and void, and shall not be counted as games played.

When a game or games shall be forfeited under the rules, the team at fault shall play its regular scheduled games the same as though they were actually contested and the score and the averages so made shall be credited and recorded.

Rule 28; Ties How Decided
In league games resulting in a tie for the five man team three games shall be played to decide the tie. The team or individual making the greatest number of pins in playing off such tie, shall be entitled to the first prize allowed for such contest, and any medals to be included.

Rule 29; Gambling Prohibited
All forms of gambling in, on or about the premises, wherein a league is being conducted are prohibited and condemned.

Rule 30; Runways Must not be De-faced
No contestant shall introduce on any part of the approach or alley any substance that will have a tendency to injure, deface or disfigure, or place the runway or alley in such a shape as to detract from the possibility of any other bowler being able to take advantage of the usual conditions. For instance, the use of such substances as resin on the runway or alley, etc. Sandpaper will be furnished by the league manager in charge upon application of the bowler or bowlers interested.

WILDCATS WILL TRY FOR FIFTH VICTORY TONIGHT

Must Defeat Badgers To Keep In Lead Of Big Ten Race

Chicago, Jan. 18—(AP)—Northwestern's Wildcats will go prowling for their fifth straight Big Ten basketball victory at Madison, Wis., tonight.

Northwestern must defeat the Badgers, who bowed in their first meeting by one point only after an overtime period, in order to retain the leadership of the league. Defeat for the Wildcats would leave Ohio State, the darkest of dark horses, at the top and the only undefeated team in the conference.

Illinois will play at Michigan in the other important game of the night, with its share of third place at stake, while Iowa and Indiana will meet at Bloomington in what amounts to just another basketball game.

Northwestern scored its fourth victory Saturday night, defeating Michigan only one free throw. The Wolverines, very much off on their shooting, led 10 to 9 at the half, but dropped back with continued failure to make good on short shots. A fine rally in the last two minutes by the Wolverines netted six points, but left them on the small end of a 21 to 20 score.

Ohio Beat Iowa

Ohio State remained undefeated, smothering Iowa 40 to 23 at Iowa City. Iowa held the Buckeyes to a 20 to 17 decision a week ago, but found the going too tough in the second meeting and lost its third in a row. Ohio State's sharpshooters collected 17 field goals and never were threatened.

Wisconsin broke into the victory column Saturday for the first time in four starts, defeating Chicago 24 to 18, but Indiana, although greatly improved, lost to Minnesota 37 to 35, its fourth straight defeat. The Maroon-Wisconsin contest was rough all the way and was another example of Chicago's inability to last.

The southern sectional championship, led Minnesota at halftime, but the Gophers broke loose in the second frame and just managed to outdistance the Hoosiers.

Purdue and Illinois, idle Saturday night, and Michigan and Minnesota today were tied for third place, followed by Wisconsin, Chicago, Iowa and Indiana in that order.

Saturday's schedule includes three games, with Ohio State's invasion of Northwestern as the feature. Michigan will meet Minnesota at Minneapolis and Chicago will play at Illinois.

Norwegian Jumper Shows His Class

Chicago, Jan. 18—(AP)—Ski jumpers from the United States and the rest of the world may just as well start worrying now about the problem of trying to defeat Kaar Walberg of Norway in the Olympic winter games at Lake Placid, New York.

Walberg heard about a ski contest at Fox River Valley, Ill., yesterday and came out to compete, along with the Norwegian brothers Ruid, Birger and Sigmund. He took two leaps, clearing 174 feet and 183 feet, twice bettering the slide record set last year by Casper Olmosen of Canton S. D., American champion. Olmosen's mark was 173 feet.

Birger Ruid was second with 182 feet and Guttorm Paulsen of Chicago did 180 feet for third place.

Olmosen, trying for a place on the United States Olympic team, was slightly outdistanced by Roy Mikolson of Chicago at Canton S. D., yesterday. Mikolson had jumps of 157 and 160 feet while Olmosen did 155 and 161 feet.

Three-Cushion Play Opened In Chicago

Chicago, Jan. 18—(AP)—Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago tonight will start his defense of the world three-cushion billiards championship against the skill of eleven challenging stars.

Thurnblad's first opponent will be Bud Westhus of St. Louis, winner of the southern sectional championship. The other match on the opening program will bring together Johnny Layton of Sedalia, Mo., who has held the title numerous times, and Len Kenney another youngster from Chicago.

The rest of the field, which will try for nearly $25,000 in cash and trophies, includes Gus Copulos, Eugene, Ore., topnotcher for more than 10 years; Allen Hall of Chicago, runner up to Thurnblad last year; Young J. Schaefer of San Francisco, the world 18.3 ballline titleholder; Tiff Denton, Kansas City veteran, who won the 1923 title; Augie Kleckhefer of Chicago, nine times holder of the championship; Otto Reisel of Philadelphia, 1927 champion; J. N. Bozeman of Vallejo, Cal., and F. S. Scofield of Buffalo, N. Y.

The winner will receive $7500, a $1000 trophy and 16 per cent of the net receipts. The runnerup will gain $4000 and 15 per cent of the net.

MORRISON WINS AGUA CALIENTE GOLF TOURNEY

Is First Far-West Pro To Cop Couvoted Money Meeting

Agua Caliente, Baja California, Jan. 18—(UP)—Fred Morrison, who was born and reared in southern California and learned his golf there, had $5,000 today to prove that he was the first far west player ever to win a big Pacific coast money tournament.

He shot a 73 in the final 18-hole match yesterday to win the $15,000 Agua Caliente open, the world's richest golf stake.

Added to his 69 of Wednesday when he led the opening round, his 74 of Thursday and his 68 of Saturday, it gave him a total of 284, two strokes better than his nearest competitor.

Second to Morrison was Gene Sazzen of New York, who received $2,500 with a 286. At that figure he was two under par for the four rounds with his first round 70 and three additional rounds of 72 each.

Third was Olin Dutra of Brentwood, with 287. He won $1,500. Next came Harry Cooper of Chicago, who might have won had he played as well the last day as he did the first three. He took a 76 in the final round for a 289 total.

Leo Diegel, local pro, just managed to get in the money with his 292, a terrific comedown since he looked like a winner at the half way mark.

His 73 Saturday and 76 Sunday put him out of the running. First among the amateurs came Fay Coleman, Los Angeles, with 290. Morrison is not well known out of southern California, but has been a prominent golfer there for a number of years.

He is present Southern California open champion and one of the longest drivers on the coast.

Gophers' New Coach Honored At Banquet

Minneapolis, Jan. 18—(AP)—Gopher fandom tonight will honor the University of Minnesota's new head football coach, Bernie Bierman, at a civic dinner. Tribute also will be paid to Fritz Crisler, Athletic Director.

Bierman arrived today to take over his duties at the local institution where he captained the 1915 Gopher football team. He recently resigned as head coach at Tulane, Crisler had been both gridiron mentor and athletic director, but with Bierman here he will relinquish the former task.

Tonight's dinner is sponsored by the University Contact Committee, the "M" Club and the Minneapolis Junior Association of Commerce.

Rheumatism So Bad Couldn't Close Hands

Prominent Woman Says New Medicine Gave Her First Good Night's Sleep Free of Pain in 8 Years.

Terrible Rheumatism, Neuritis, Sciatica, etc., of functional nature, make thousands of men and women suffer untold agonies. Every joint hurts, hands and legs swell, pains shoot across the back, and many can't even bend over to lace their shoes; they are so racked with pain they don't know what it is to enjoy a good night's rest, and many are flat on their backs in bed.

Don't go on suffering with these conditions, feeling that there is no hope. Take steps now to correct these troubles before they result in loss of work and other serious consequences. What you need is a medicine that will go right to the source of your troubles, begin fighting your conditions, and keep the Toxic Poisons from the Blood Stream and Vital Organs, thus enabling Nature to assert itself and start you on the road to health and happiness.

Every day, in every walk of life, new people are coming forward and publicly endorsing the New Master Medicine, Wenvo, because of the marvelous results and the amazing speed with which it begins to combat their ailments. The well known Topeka, Kansas, woman, Mrs. L. E. Robinson, of 323 East 8th St., that city, says: "I suffered for eight years, during which time I tried all kinds of treatments and medicines without results. I tried Wenvo. Every joint hurt, knees, hips, ankles, wrists, fingers were swollen until I could not close them. I was discouraged, but my daughter suggested I try Wenvo. The first half bottle accomplished wonders. I got my first good night's sleep free of pain in years. Pain is rapidly disappearing, and I feel well again."

Poke Root, one of the 28 active ingredients in this New Master Medicine, Wenvo, is highly beneficial as an alternative in chronic Rheumatism, changing the process of Nutrition and waste elimination, thus restoring normal body functions. Each other ingredient has a specific function to perform in taking up the vital organs and in giving new strength and energy.

No matter how long you have suffered, how discouraged you may be, or how many other medicines have failed, we want you to try the New Master Medicine, Wenvo, under our guarantee that it must satisfy you completely, or we will refund the small purchase price without question or argument. Don't delay. Get the FORD-HOPKINS DRUG STORE,

Will Go To Trial
Tomorrow Morn

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 18.—(UP)—Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd will plead insanity as one of her defenses when she goes to trial Tuesday charged with the murder of her two women friends her attorney indicated today.

Herman Lewkowitz, Mrs. Judd's local counsel, admitted that he probably will attempt to show insanity "among other things." Under Arizona law, insanity may be pleaded as one of several defenses.

The 27-year-old woman charged with killing Miss Helvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Lerol and riding 500 miles with their dismembered bodies in her luggage has been under the observation of many psychiatrists and alienists, most of them requested by the defense but several acting for the state.

Two sealed packets, addressed to the Clerk of the Court, have arrived by mail from middle western cities. Though their contents were undisclosed, it was believed they related to Mr. Judd's girlhood in Indiana.

It was thought not unlikely that her parents the father an Indiana evangelist, would be placed on the stand to tell what they know of the "burial abduction," a sensational narrative of Mrs. Judd's adolescence.

Told Weird Story
As the story was printed at the time of her arrest three months ago, Mrs. Judd, when she was 16, allowed herself to be "found" in a barn clad only in a burlap sack, and told a story of kidnapping and seduction that resulted in the arrest of a neighbor youth, a story she was said to have retracted later, with the confession that it was a fiction growing out of her passionate wish for a child.

Mrs. Judd's behavior since her arrest has been of the sort that would lend itself to the contention that she was insane. In the office of the Los Angeles Captain of Detectives on the night she surrendered, she aroused some surprise by calmly announcing, when her husband told her he was fighting any attempt to take her back to Arizona.

"Why, I want to go back to Arizona, that's the only place for me."

At her preliminary hearing, she caused a court room stir when the man she hired to transport the luggage carrying the bodies of her friends was on the stand. Upon her whispered prompting, one of her attorneys asked the man:

"Did she give you a tip?" when he replied, "she promised me one, but I never got it." Mrs. Judd laughed loudly.

It was considered likely that she also will plead self-defense which she pressed when arrested, that Miss Samuelson fired upon her at the height of a quarrel and Mrs. Lerol advanced with an ironing board.

THREATENS TO TELL
San Francisco, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Dr. Joseph Catton, San Francisco alienist, said last night that Winnie Ruth Judd had threatened to "tell everything if things don't go the way they are planned" at her trial.

The trial is to start Tuesday in Phoenix, Ariz.

Dr. Catton, who has twice examined Mrs. Judd, will act as chief state alienist.

Dr. Catton hinted that a second person may be involved in the slaying of Mrs. Agnes Anne Lerol and Hedvig Samuelson.

"From all aspects of the case as I know them, almost anything may develop," Dr. Catton said. "Mrs. Judd said to me:

"If things don't go the way they tell me and don't go the way they are planned, believe me, I'll get up and tell everything."

When Dr. Catton examined Mrs. Judd in the Phoenix jail, he asked her, he said, if she had cut up the bodies, as they were found dismembered and packed in trunks. He said her reply was:

"I have never even cut up a chicken in my life, doctor."

He said he believed Mrs. Judd sane and her mental average is normal.

Sharkey May Meet
Hamas In February
New York, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Jack Sharkey of Boston probably will defend his American heavyweight championship against Steve Hamas, former Penn State football star, in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden in February, Hamas' manager, Charley Harvey, announced last night. He said negotiations for the match already were under way and it might be signed this week.

After conferring with Jimmy Johnston, manager of boxing at the Garden, Harvey last night issued a challenge, on behalf of Hamas, for Sharkey's American title.

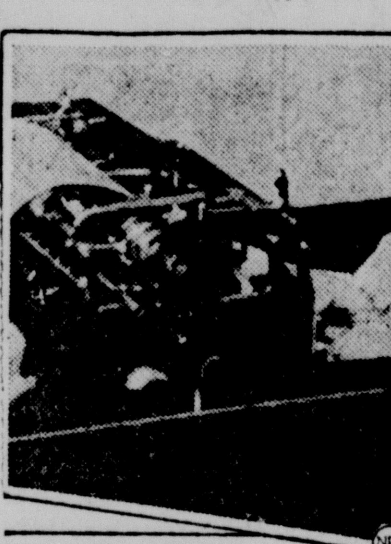

Harvey promised he would not match Steve with another opponent until Sharkey had accepted or rejected definitely the challenge.

Sharkey was awarded the American title by the New York Commission after his victory over Young Stribling at Miami, Fla.

Ornithologist Honored
The Audubon society was named for John James Audubon, a famous American ornithologist and painter of bird pictures. He was born on the island of Santo Domingo, in the part now known as Haiti, on April 26, 1785. He was taken to France to be educated and emigrated to America when he was eighteen years of age. Nearly his whole life was passed in the United States. He lived in Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Louisiana and New York. He died on January 27, 1851, in New York city.

Fall's Kin Now "Sob Sister"

"I'm going to be the best 'sob sister' that ever punched a typewriter," said Martha Fall, granddaughter of Albert B. Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, when she took her place as "sob" reporter on the El Paso, Tex., Herald-Post. Miss Fall, who some time ago won a beauty prize in an Austin high school contest, spurned movie contracts to join the paper. She is shown here at her typewriter.

Lydia's Monarch Second to Solomon in Riches?

The wealthiest man in the history of the world was Croesus, last king of Lydia, who from his conquest, his riches, and the golden sands of the Pactolus, accumulated so much treasure that his wealth has become proverbial—"Rich as Croesus" now signifying rich beyond the dreams of avarice. He reigned from B. C. 560 to 546, but dissipated, and yielding himself up to sumptuous extravagance and the pleasures of life, declared that he was the unhappiest man in the world. Welcoming the Greeks to his court, he was visited by the great Athenian lawyer, Solon, of whom he asked the question: "Who was the happiest man in the world that he had seen?"

To receive in reply, "No man should be called happy until his death."

Coming into conflict with Cyrus, the Persian king, Croesus was defeated, his capital Sardis taken, and he was condemned to death by burning. As he stood awaiting the firing of the pyre, he recalled Solon's aphorism, and exclaiming "O Solon!" three times, aroused the curiosity of Cyrus who, inquiring into the reason for the ejaculations, was told the story of Solon's precept, and spared his life.

But the First Book of Kings tells us that "King Solomon exceeded all the kings of the earth for riches and for wisdom." (10:23).—Literary Digest.

Man of the Future

Following present tendencies into the future, Dr. Ales Hrdlicka of the Smithsonian institution, regarded as America's greatest anthropologist, finds that future man will have a longer and easier life than mankind of today; he will be somewhat taller and handsomer; his eyes will be deeper set, nose prominent and narrow, mouth smaller, teeth smaller and fewer, hair scantier, chin more prominent, head broader and larger, skull wall thinner, brain larger, face more expressive, foot more refined, fingers longer, chin thinner and squarer. Little toes, wisdom teeth and many internal vestiges, including the appendix, will be vanishing or gone.

Now You'll Remember

It was the ancient custom of English churches during Rogation week, a custom still followed in remote country parishes, to assemble the whole congregation, particularly the younger element, under the leadership of the head and church officers, and trace from bourn to bourn the limits of the parish.

The straggling procession followed the line like a pack of hounds on the scent of a fox. It was a great day for the children, but the elders, too, had some entertainment, for when an old moss-covered stone post was discovered one of them would pick up a likely lad and pump him so severely against it that he would always remember it. It was essential that future headless and church wardens should be able to hand on to their successors exact knowledge of the limits of the parish.—Atlantic Monthly.

Harmless Shark

The basking sharks sometimes attain a length of 30 feet or more, but they have very small teeth and their diet consists necessarily of small fishes that travel in shoals and other small soft sea creatures which they take into their huge mouths while lying lazily on the surface of the ocean. This species of shark is hunted for its oil, a large one yielding as much as a ton and a half.

The Wicked Flea

A humanitarian from Hartford, who wished to insure his dog's comfort, sent a hurry-up message to the Meriden Journal. "Kindly tell me," he urged, "as soon as you can, what is good for fleas?" "That depends," stalled the editor. "What's the matter with the fleas?"

Irate Woman Probably Had Time for Regrets

The bus terminal had been reorganized since the Woman's last trip, but she eventually located her bus, and, having three minutes to spare, paced up and down beside it.

From the waiting room emerged a couple engaged in wordy combat, the husband, as usual, losing in the battle. On and on waged the wife, her spouse meekly following with his arms full of bundles. As she got on the bus, he handed the bundles to her and prepared to turn away.

"Don't you dare to be late for supper!" shrieked his spouse. The unfortunate male, his downcast gaze roving humbly over the bus, started suddenly.

"Lily—" he began.
"Don't you 'Lily' me!" shrieked the woman, starting off again.

"Lissen a minute!" begged the husband.

"Lissen to you! Every time I lissen—" She finished an irate monologue and disappeared into the bus.

"Lissen," the little man called after her. But she was already seated inside. As the little man made toward the bus it jerked suddenly and drove off, leaving him standing, mouth open.

The Woman met his eyes with an involuntary smile. A slow grin spread over his face.

"Don't that beat all?" he asked the Woman, shrugging his thin shoulders. "I only wanted to tell her she's on the wrong bus!" He chuckled. "I hope she finds out soon. The first stop for that one is Philadelphia. And we live in Long Island!"—New York Sun.

"Pure" English Defined as of Elizabethan Era

The oft-quoted saying that the purest English is spoken in Dublin, particularly at Trinity college, is of unknown origin, says the Pathfinder Magazine. Inverness, Scotland, and Belfast, Ireland, are often linked with Dublin as places where exceptionally pure and correct English is spoken by the inhabitants. The saying probably means little more than that the common speech in these places contains an unusually large number of Elizabethan words now regarded as "archaic" or "classical" in England and the United States.

Speech in small countries or isolated communities seldom changes as rapidly as it does in the more populous centers. Both Dublin and Belfast were settled by colonists from England and the speech of their descendants did not undergo the same development that the language of the parent country did. The English language of the periods

Long Welsh Name

Does it not seem curious that any place should be named "Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobwllantysylllogogoch?" but to a Welshman this is one of the most poetical names on his map. To the stranger who goes there and sees the place it is also a locality of charm and beauty. But the name itself is poetry. Llan is "church." Fair is "of Mary." pwll gwyngyll is "the pool of white hazels," gogery is "rather near," while chwyrdrobwll is "the swift whirlpool" and Tysylllogogoch is "of Tysillo of the red cave." It is not, therefore, suggestive of romance and beauty enough to visit the village of the church of St. Mary by the pool of white hazels, near the swift whirlpool of St. Tysillo's church of the red cave?

There's $250,000 in cash and negotiable securities on that table, almost every dollar of the loot in the recent Lowell Mass., postal robbery. Authorities who recovered the money also are said to have obtained confessions from two men arrested. Shown here are Xavier Delisle, Lowell postmaster, and Police Captain David Petre.

Friday the Thirteenth Still Considered "Jinx"

With all the wealth of fact and philosophy at his command man continues to be a victim of superstition, forcing himself to accept inconveniences and endure suffering because of a fear complex. The old superstitions fear that Friday is an unlucky day, and if Friday falls on the thirteenth day of the month, it is a jinx filled with danger and probable disaster to mankind, comes into evidence continually in the modern times.

The baseless fear of Friday probably was born of witchery and ignorance, but the fear of the thirteenth day of the month may have had its origin in more modern times. The spread of human intelligence should have eliminated both fears from the minds of man, but it has not.

Recently a great ocean liner was delayed for hours in leaving New York so that the trip might be started on the fourteenth day of the month, and not on Friday, the thirteenth. Officials scoffed at the superstition, but admitted that there had been a clamor from passengers to accept the delay and escape the supposed jinx. There is room for more public education so long as people display this fear complex.—Ohio State Journal.

Safety Glass Discovery

The year 1931 is virtually the twenty-first birthday of safety glass, for it was in 1910 that the patent now most generally used was filed. The inventor was Edouard Benedictus, a French chemist of Dutch origin, who had an experimental laboratory in Paris. One day he dropped a bottle to the stone floor, and although it was starred inside like a crystal it did not break. He remembered that it had contained a mixture of various chemicals which had evaporated and coated the interior with a transparent enamel. Benedictus noted the formula, and realized that on his shelf lay the secret of unsplit glass. The patent was filed in 1910, but it was not till Reginald Delpech, the English pioneer motorist, took up the idea that safety glass was manufactured.

SECOND ROUND OF CAGE LOOP BEGINS TONIGHT

Three Games Scheduled
For Moose Hall
This Evening

The second round of play in the Industrial basketball league will open this evening at 7 o'clock at the Moose hall. The opening contest will see two Dixon teams opposing, the Dixon Battery Shop, formerly the Independents taking the floor against the American Body & Cab company five reinforced by the former Merchants organization.

The second game at 8 o'clock should be a hard fought contest, with Franklin Grove opposing Ashton. The third game at 9 o'clock brings the dark horses of the newly organized league into action when Polo will cross with the rebuilt Reynolds Wire company five. Pig of Sterling has been selected to referee the games.

The rules of the league permit each team to retain ten players and no transfers or additions will be permitted during the schedule. The list of players on each of the six teams will be published later. Three games will be played each Monday evening during the season and with a popular admission price should attract basketball fans from all of the surrounding towns represented in the league, as well as providing an evening of fast entertainment for local followers of the game.

Fossil Remains Blamed for Defects in Teeth

It is a long call from the mastodons—giant elephants that roamed over North America 50,000 years ago—to the teeth of Arizona school children, but there appears to be a clear connection as reported from the Arizona experiment station of the Department of Agriculture.

A large number of the inhabitants of the village of St. David, Ariz., had a peculiar condition of the teeth known as mottled enamel. This was found in every person whose permanent teeth had been erupted in the locality. It was finally traced to the drinking water, mostly obtained from artesian wells.

Analysis showed this water to contain an abnormal amount of chemical fluorine. The deeper the wells the less fluorine.

Further research in the vicinity revealed deposits of fossilized mastodon bones and tusks. This contained considerable quantities of the rare element. The conclusion was that the long dead animals constituted at least one source of the impurity in the water that affected the children's teeth with a presumably incurable defect.—Detroit News.

Masterpiece of Nature That Defies Puny Man

In 1890 the owners of a tract of redwood timber near Porterville, Calif., attempted to fell a giant redwood tree, but failed. The tree was sawed through from both sides at an angle and although cut through was held as in a vise. A little Irish lumberjack used a charge of black powder in the cut, but all that the charge did was to move the saved end of the tree an inch in its resting place. Had dynamite been available at the time the tree would not have been saved. Men at that time were engaged in the forests cutting stakes for use in fencing in the valleys. Hitching posts were turned out and were in great demand in front of all business places in the towns of the treeless valleys of California. But the tree that refused to fall, though cut entirely through, still stands, dead of course, in the dense forest near Porterville.

PETROLLE-RAN BOUT FEATURE OF WEEK CARD

Fargo Veteran Figured To Spoil March Of Foreign Lad

New York, Jan. 18.—(AP)—Just when a young welterweight seems to be going somewhere, they trot out Billy Petrolle and that's the end of that.

The Fargo veteran, perhaps the hardest puncher for his weight in modern boxing, seems to have become the official "spoiler" of promising prospects.

First there was Justo Suarez, the Argentine slugger. He piled up a string of impressive wins in this country, but ran afoul of Petrolle's devastating punching power in the ninth round of a ten-round bout here last summer.

Then Billy Townsend, VanCouver flash, seemed headed toward the heights until Petrolle parked him on the floor for the full count in Madison Square Garden last month.

Now it's Eddie Ran, Polish star who can hit and hit hard with either hand. Ran outpointed the highly touted importation from Czechoslovakia, Franta Nekolny, and knocked out Jimmy McNamara in a round in his last two starts, so they've matched him with Petrolle at the Garden this Friday night.

Billy has been around for a good many years, but he seems to improve with age. He should be a 3 to 1 favorite over Ran, for the Pole is only a youngster and apparently lacks the experience necessary to cope with Petrolle. The Fargo veteran is willing to take two punches almost any time to get in one. Jimmy McLarnin's powerful punching couldn't put him on the floor.

All it all, it looks like a bad match for Ran, although it's an opportunity for him to crash through to fame.

Philadelphia starts the fistic entertainment for the week tonight with a ten-round match between Tony Canzoneri and Johnny Jadick of Philadelphia. Canzoneri, lightweight champion of the world, will defend the latter title against Jadick.

Six-Day-Cure For Narcotics Habit Is Found

Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 18.—(AP)—Six days to break a narcotic morphine habit is the record of the first trial of a new remedy discovered at Cornell University.

The results of this case, a man had taken morphine for 16 years, are to appear in the January number of the proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences. They are reported by Wilder D. Bancroft, Ph. D., Robert S. Gussell, M. D., and John E. Rutledge, Jr. Treatment was in Ithaca memorial hospital.

Sodium rhodanate effected the speedy cure. For every reduction in morphine an equal amount of this remedy was given until after six days the man received no more narcotic. Shortly afterward the sodium rhodanate was discontinued.

This was on December 9 last, since when, the report states, the man has had no further narcotic desire.

The new treatment is based on a discovery at Cornell that the craving for narcotics which follows ordinary stopping of the drug, is due to coagulation, that is, a thickening of proteins in brain and nerves.

This thickened condition is really the "habit," according to the Cornell experiments. Normally the coagulation is likely to disappear if left to itself, but only very slowly and with painful nervous disturbances.

Sodium rhodanate works directly on the brain proteins, speedily reducing the excess "thickening," doing in a few days what nature requires weeks or months to accomplish.

FORMER STATE EXECUTIVE HAS GREAT MEETING

5,000 Jammed Way Into Small Meeting In Chicago Theater

Kankakee—"I still cherish the old fashioned belief that officers elected by the people are their servants and not their masters and should not assume to be the dictators of the people."

That statement was the opening of an address given before a large audience in the Auditorium theater in Chicago by Len Small, former governor and now a candidate for nomination to the same office.

Little Advance Notice
Despite the fact that the meeting had been planned only 48 hours previously and that there had been no newspaper announcements of any kind, the meeting was attended by more than 5,000 people while hundreds more were unable to find seats.

"I believe that platform promises made by candidates for election to office are very sacred pledges and should be kept and carefully carried out," Mr. Small continued.

"I believe in majority rule. The laws of our state provide for the submission to questions of public policy to a referendum vote and when that is done and the majority of the people have expressed themselves by their votes, I believe the will of the majority should be carried out. I have always kept my campaign promises and I always will."

Pointing out that under his administration 8,000 miles of paved highways were built in Illinois, he concluded his address by saying: "I believe that one of the duties of government in this great country of ours, with the most wonderful undeveloped natural resources, is to find and help provide profitable employment for all of those who want to work. Our greatest prosperity has always been when all of the people had work."

Thompson Speaks
Other speakers were Werner W. Schroeder, Chicago attorney, and William Hale Thompson, dynamic former Mayor of Chicago, who led the audience in a rousing song, the refrain of which was "Happy days are here again, Len Small is going to run again."

Mayor Thompson also reported that 98,789 pledge cards, endorsing Mr. Small's candidacy and pledging allegiance to him, had been signed and turned in by Attorney Patrick B. Presscott son-in-law of Bishop Cary of Chicago, who made such a remarkable address in Kankakee on September 19, when Mr. Small announced his candidacy.

Mayor Louis S. Beckman of this city reported that in two precincts of Kankakee 91 per cent of the voters signed petitions for Mr. Small's nomination. "Most of the remaining 9 per cent were not at home," he said, adding with a smile, "and of course we concede that a few are Democrats."

Others present from Kankakee were Col. A. E. Inglish and E. A. Jeffers, former chairman of the Kankakee County Republican Central committee.

STUDENTS USING LESS LIQUOR
Syracuse, N. Y.—(UP)—Dr. Geo. B. Cutten, president of Colgate University, believes the use of liquor on college campuses is diminishing. Dr. Cutten expressed approval of the 18th Amendment, pointing out the improved conditions among the laboring classes.

Machines That Are Almost Human

By E. C. TAYLOR

The Magic Mariner

FRITHJOFF's mythical ship, as described in an Icelandic saga, that sailed the seas without a human being aboard, may have been a vision of the future.

For scientists have reproduced the vessel that could sail from port to port at the will of man, and without a human being to steer it on its course, or take it past the reef into safe harbor.

On September 20, 1927, the steamship Pulpit Point reached Auckland, New Zealand, after a run of 21 days from San Francisco, during which no human hand had touched the steering gear. There were cobwebs on the wheel when the vessel reached the harbor at Auckland.

There the robot that had held the ship true to her compass course across the Pacific ocean day and night for three weeks turned them over to an Auckland pilot.

The robot was the ship and train models on radio receiving sets, and land, New Zealand, after a run of 21 days from San Francisco, during which no human hand had touched the steering gear. There were cobwebs on the wheel when the vessel reached the harbor at Auckland.

Robots will make travel at sea much safer for future generations, scientists are sure. After each great sea disaster of recent years, new devices for safety have been invented, and many of them are now in use.

The new submarines of the United States navy have devices that signal to the surface if anything goes wrong and the vessel is trapped under the waves. Other devices permit the submarine crew to rise safely to the surface, and still others aid in salvaging a sunken submarine.

One of the newest inventions being adopted by passenger carrying ships is that of an automatic radio receiver that will pick up S O S calls without requiring a radio operator to be constantly on guard, and broadcast them throughout the ship.

A robot that will bring help to shipwrecked people in life boats is being added to the equipment of many ocean liners. This robot is a small radio transmitter with a hand-operated dynamo to supply the power. As the crank of the dynamo is turned, it automatically sends out a series of S O S calls to be picked up by any passing ship. It can be operated by anyone with a little experience, and will continue to call for help as long as the dynamo crank is turned.

THE OLD COUNSELLOR'S COLUMN

Prejudices and Securities

The other afternoon, a really fundamental question was put to me by a business man with whom I was playing a round of golf. He said, "Why is it that some people seem to be so much more successful than others in investing their money safely and profitably? Judging by your experience with a great many investors, what are the main obstacles that they must overcome in carrying out an efficient investment program?"

I told my friend that some of the hardest handicaps for any investor to meet are his own ill-founded prejudices and preconceptions. To be successful, and prosper, should have an open, unbiased viewpoint. Prejudices is a poor substitute for actual knowledge, and superficial, personal preferences are not nearly such dependable guides as seasoned judgment and careful investigation. If people wish to invest as profitably as possible, they should search out the real facts and act upon them.

Being in touch with many people who are buying securities from time to time, I have often been puzzled at the way some of them are led and misled by their personal impulses and misgivings. As extreme examples, one man I know never buys any securities on a cloudy day, and I recall a woman who always insisted upon going to a fortune teller for advice whenever she had money to invest. While most people realize that the crystal-gazing is not as good a test of a bond as scrutiny of the borrowing company's earnings statement and balance sheet, nevertheless, a great many of them have their own pet theories which lead them to buy one type of security, or prevent them from buying another—and with no more concrete reason for their likes or dislikes than they would get from a fortune teller.

If some people do not invest successfully, it is perhaps because they fail to give adequate attention to the actual merits and underlying values of the different classes or issues of securities, and are too much influenced by whims and fancies. As a result, investors sometimes buy the wrong bonds without ever knowing how much better, how much more safely or profitably they would be able to invest their money by keeping their eyes and their minds open to all the different classes of bonds that are available.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 17.

The Golden Text was, "This is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son" (1 John 5:11).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" (Romans 8:5, 6).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "For right reasoning there should be but one fact before the thought, namely, spiritual existence. In reality there is no other existence, since Life cannot be united to its unlikeness, mortality" (p. 492).

Stethoscopes like those used by doctors are used to test electric clocks in a large factory.

of airplanes could be sent to bomb cities in the wars of the future, all flown by robots and directed by radio.

Demonstrations with small working models have shown that ships or trains can be maneuvered entirely by robots. Recent stunts put on by scientists to prove the value of their brain chips and trains controlled by robots, that responded to instructions voiced over the radio.

The ship and train models were controlled absolutely by spoken commands. They stopped at the word "Stop." They backed up when told to "Back up." They started forward again when told to "Get along there."

Vibrations of the human voice through a microphone were received by the ship and train models on radio receiving sets, and started machines that operated the models.

Robots will make travel at sea much safer for future generations, scientists are sure. After each great sea disaster of recent years, new devices for safety have been invented, and many of them are now in use.

Old Society of Mariners

Records seem to indicate that the corporation of Trinity house, London, was originally a society of English mariners founded by Sir Thomas Spert with headquarters at Deptford, says an article in the Montreal Family Herald. There is no doubt that it obtained its first charter from Henry VII in 1514, and was authorized by Queen Elizabeth about half a century later to erect beacons and other marks on the coast for the guidance of sailors. Its duties today are concerned with the management and maintenance of lighthouses, lightships, beacons and buoys, and the supervision of pilots. It owns a fleet of 19 vessels. The corporation has four special flags, the Master's flag, the Ensign, the Jack, and Burgee, all of which bear the four ship's symbol of Trinity house.

Awesome Hjordund Fjord

A short summer cruise among the fjords of Norway will sometimes bring the tourist to the Hjordund fjord, twenty-five miles long and two miles wide in places. Here he will see some of the most impressive scenery in Europe, for the unpeaked Søndmøre Alps raise their peaks above the rock-rimmed waters. Norwegians and English climbed year after year, gradually conquering the heights, but the grandeur is not diminished, and at twilight, the effect is awesome. When Norway was visited by the "Black Death" in the Middle ages, the entire population of the fjord perished, and the present inhabitants are chiefly descendants of Scotch immigrants who came to fill the houses left vacant.

Taking Chances

The teacher of the history class had been telling her pupils of the ancient Roman custom in which the bridegroom lifted the bride over the threshold to prevent her stumbling and bringing bad luck.

Just at that moment the bell rang and the class wit, who happened to be a favorite with the teacher, paused at the desk to pass his customary remarks:

"Gosh!" he exclaimed, "It'd be tough on him if he got a heavy woman!"

Insects Take Apple Toll

Insects take rank among the largest consumers of apples in the country. It is estimated by federal experts that from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000 worth of apples every year are destroyed by insects, which cuts a big piece out of the $200,000,000 annual yield.

Bean Growers' Eye

Did you ever sort dried navy beans or soy beans? Pick out the best, grade them all and throw away those unfit for the baked bean pot?

Fatiguing, wasn't it? Sorting and grading even a pound or two grows tiresome, even if it is done in the kitchen in preparation for supper.

The scores of workers in the large food establishments where hundreds of thousands of dried beans are graded after each crop become positively weary, and their employers found by experience that the sorting of the beans suffered as a result. Toward the end of each day, beans of inferior grade were left in the package of higher grade beans, and the food packing concern cast about for some new method of sorting and grading beans.

Science came to their rescue. The "bean growers' eye" was produced. It really cannot think of course, but it performs its task much more accurately and swiftly than human beings, and completely does away with the carelessness of human sorters.

The "eye" is fastened above a carrier along which the beans are transported, and it is an infallible detector of inferiority. As the beans pass under the "eye," the inferior beans are automatically cast aside, and those remaining are separated according to their grades.

The device is simply a photo-electric cell, a simple electric bulb with a coating inside of certain elements.

The sensitized mirror surface of the bulb causes it to give off electrons that are sensitive to long light waves or short light waves, whichever is desired, and the reflection or non-reflection of the inferior bean attracts the attention of the photo-electric cell.

The cell communicates with a battery attachment and the battery throws out a current of electricity. The current, becoming greatly magnified, gives forth enough energy to control a mechanical device which removes the inferior bean.

Simple, isn't it? One such device

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ANN and CECILY PENWICK have for years supported themselves, their younger sister, MARY, FRANCES, and their grandparents, known as "HON. A. L. E.," and "GRAND." Because of this financial responsibility, Ann, who is 28, is unable to marry PHIL, EDWARD, young lawyer to whom she has been engaged for eight years.

Cecily, 25, loves DADDY NICKEL, an engineer, but when he proposes she refuses to name their wedding date for the same reason.

Mary-Frances, 15, and still in school, strikes up an acquaintance with EARL DE ARMOUT, vaudeville actor, and meets him secretly. He tries to persuade her to become his stage partner.

Ann and Phil quarrel when she hears LITTY KING, who works in Phil's office building, address him with endearments. Ann tries to forget Phil by going around with KENNETH SMITH, rich and attractive. Cecil is distressed when she learns Barry has left town without telling her about it.

Do Armout to arrange a meeting with him next day.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXVI

"WELL, but that isn't fair, is it?" said Mary-Frances.

"No, it's not. Only when Daddy said he'd rent the poodles for us you were doing lots better than I was in algebra, and I guess he thought we'd help each other and all. I guess Daddy thought we'd each work for the other, like true friends should. I guess he never even dreamed that you'd go and flunk."

"It wasn't my fault I flunked, was it?" "We can swim, anyway."

"No, we can't," said Ermintrude.

"Well, why can't we?"

"Daddy and Mother were up there yesterday tending to final arrangements and all, and they watched them empty the pool, and they say there is a foot, anyway, of stagnant water that won't empty out, and they won't let me swim for fear of infection, and they are going to advise against it to everybody, and Mother says she won't be responsible for the girls that do, and the tournament is out of the question."

"Well," accused Mary-Frances, "I must say! That's nice, isn't it? If we can't ride and can't swim, what can we do?"

"Nothing. Everything is ruined. You didn't flunk. Unless, maybe, you did flunk in algebra after all."

Their sighs joined and sank in the sunshine.

"I'll tell you one thing I won't do," said Ermintrude. "I won't sit around and read poetry all the time. I won't do it, Mary-Frances. And I won't let on to the other girls, like you said, about you and Earl, either. Suppose I did, and one of the girls—Barbara Flaxton for instance—it would be just exactly like her—should go and tell her mother, and Mrs. Flaxton would tell Mother, and it would all come back on me?"

"Ermintrude," said Mary-Frances.

"Dear Sweetie. Yrs received, So wisely patient, "Is that very sensible? It would come back on me, wouldn't it? It wouldn't come back on you, would it?"

"Well, I won't do it, anyway," declared Ermintrude. "I just have one of those strong psychic hunches of mine that I'd better not. You know how I am when I have one of those—"

Mary-Frances said, "All right, darling," hurriedly. The fire house was just around the corner. "I always trust your psychic hunches, and you know I do. I expect, maybe, we can coax your mother into letting us swim."

"Nobody," said Ermintrude, from the depths of sad experience, "can coax either my mother or my daddy into anything."

"They'll mellow, I expect," prophesied Mary-Frances. "Grand and Rosalie say that age mellow everybody like everything. They," boasted Mary-Frances, "can be coaxed into anything. Ann and Clary aren't so good. They're like your mother and daddy—they've got to mellow. I'll wait right here for you, darling."

Ermintrude took the letter, written on Rosalie's orchid notepaper, looked at it for an instant, put it to her nose. "I think you've got too much perfume on it," was her only voiced objection. She went. Mary-Frances waited.

"ERMINTRUDE! I thought you were never coming back. Did you find him?"

"Course I found him. He was right in his room, and he opened the door when I knocked."

"What'd he say when he saw you?"

"He just said, 'Hello,' kind of funny."

"What'd you say?"

"I said, 'Here.'"

"Did you give him the letter?"

"Yes. That's what I did when I said, 'Here.'"

"What'd he say then?"

"Nothing. He just looked funny and put it in his pocket."

"Did you tell him that you brought it 'cause there wasn't time to mail it?"

"No, I forgot. He'll know, anyway, won't he, when he reads the letter?"

"What'd you say he said after you said, 'Here'?"

"Nothing. He just looked funny and put it in his pocket."

"Which pocket, Ermintrude?"

"His outside coat pocket."

"Did he start, or pale, or tremble, or anything?"

"No. He just looked funny."

Conceded, then, that he looked funny. Perhaps he felt funny, for his reply to Mary-Frances' letter was an amusing, almost humorous affair:

"Dear Sweetie. Yrs received, So how about tomorrow Tues. after noon at 4 at the chop suey joint upstairs over Palmer's and Co. I will be waiting there for my sweeties. Yrs, E. P. S. If you can not make it give me a buzz or drop me a line by male saying when and where date would be convenient. X X X X X"

The crosses, as anyone knows, stood for kisses pledged. But Hung Chin See's Chop Suey Parlor (Chinese and American Cooking, 35c Merchants' Lunch, Dinner 60c), at four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, was no place for candid, straightforward things like kisses. It was, rather, a place for wit and fancy, flussee and artifice and intrigue. Great colorful fly-specked lanterns were hooked up on the ceiling, and wind bells, though broken, would have tinkled had there been a stirring of air in the deep stillness of the dim soiled room that smelled of old, old chop sueys and dead dear chow mien, with such sauce, too. The tablecloths were spotted, and the dishes were chipped, and all the glorious Orient would have glowed, more than likely, if the lights had been turned on; and a close-eyed boy in coat and apron, which had once been white, stole around through all this glamorous glamour and slopped tea and scantily fulfilled their meager wants.

EARL would have only green tea, and that not strong. Earl was off his feed: stumek trouble, he said, which got worse on him if he didn't watch it. Which, anyway, was almost sure to get worse on him until he could get to Mendel Springs and stay overnight, at least, and drink of its mineral waters. So Mary-Frances, who did not care for tea, ordered nothing but a glass of milk and a slice of custard pie, and she finished them up quickly, and after that she ate nothing except small soup crackers from the smudged bowl on the table. But these she ate with such an air, picking each one daintily from the dish and poised it near her lips for a moment or two before she popped it in, that it seemed almost as if she were smoking cigars and not eating anything at all.

Conversation had lapsed. Earl reopened it. "Excuse me, Frankie, he said, 'but you got kind of a mustache of milk on your mouth.'"

Mary-Frances blushed and applied a paper napkin.

"You're pretty," he said. "Cripes! You're awful pretty. But aren't you afraid of getting fat, drinking milk and eating such heavy food between meals?"

"Fat!" protested Mary-Frances. He qualified, "Well, plump—anyways."

"I certainly am not. I'm away under weight, and my sister Ann and everybody worries about my being so—well, slender. My constant

"I'm not saying that—see? I'm telling you that with the act this guy in Denver would fix up for you and I would knock 'em cold. Cold! We'd have to start in a small way, maybe. Not the swell drops nor all that we'd get later—but look at the future. I'm telling you, Frankie, there's no limit to where a couple can go, once they got popularity. Thousands of dollars in radio auditions. Vitaphone acts. Testimonials—cigarettes, mattresses, pills—everything. Look at Lindbergh and what he turned down. Look at Rudy—"

"Orations?" questioned Mary-Frances.

"I'll tell the world."

Electric Fleas

DID you ever watch a circus of trained fleas perform; see them imitating human beings in their stunts beneath a microscope?

Science has trained electric "fleas" to do much more. These electric "fleas" are wonderful creatures; they have been made to put out fires, guard money, turn on street lights and perform other marvelous tasks.

These "fleas" are cheap, too. For a nickel one can buy 230,000,000,000,000 of them and they are easily put to work, according to Dr. Phillips Thomas, research engineer of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company laboratories in Pittsburgh, Pa.

An ounce of these "fleas" represents 100,000 kilowatt hours of energy. You press a button and 100,000,000 of them a second pass along the wires of your electric toaster at the breakfast table each morning.

Doctor Thomas christened them "fleas." These remarkably energetic creatures of science are simply electrons, the "building blocks of the universe." They are all exactly alike and can be depended upon in their actions.

Electric "fleas" made their public debut at the annual meeting of the American Institute in New York in February, 1929. They watched the guests at dinner, counted them and guarded them from a fire.

Instead of speakers, a pair of mixed gasoline and kerosene was placed at the head of the table. Beside it was a device controlled by a photo-electric eye. This is a vacuum tube resembling an electric light bulb and it is so sensitive that it registers the most minute changes in light faster than the human eye can perceive them.

Doctor Thomas struck a match to the pair of explosive mixture. It flamed, but just as the flames leaped high, the new mechanical marvel went to work. It promptly put out the fire. The light of the flames when it reached the vacuum tube started machinery that brought a fire extinguisher into play, and a blanket of gas poured over the flames quickly smothered them.

The instrument looked something like a hooded camera. It moved around until it pointed at the flames, and then released the streams of fire-extinguisher.

Doctor Thomas predicts that this machine will eventually do away with expensive fire-fighting apparatus.

"It is almost human," he said. "I got too close to the fire while experimenting one day and it squirted all over me. I'll swear I heard it chuckle. It would be operated from ceilings, with a number of photo cell units and wide area lenses covering the floor. The present sprinkler system needs heat to turn it on. This will need only the light from the fire, and it would operate in the restricted surface of the light."

As another demonstration of what his harnessed electric "fleas" can do, Doctor Thomas presented "Rastus," his mechanical man, with an apple on his head and re-enacted the William Tell episode.

His bow and arrow were ultra-modern. It shot light rays instead of arrows. The light flashed and the apple fell. Rastus stood up and bowed and spoke a few words to his audience, then sat down again.

All this was done through the medium of the new vacuum tubes, in which the electric "fleas" perform at the bidding of their scientist-trainer.

Scientists are at work perfecting this device for work in the industries on a large scale. New intimations are being given continually, said Doctor Thomas, of the vast scope of the tasks the electric "fleas" may perform.

One demonstration showed that it could be made to turn on and off the street lights of a city. The photo-electric tubes, highly sensitive to the fading light of day, turned on a series of street lights as dusk fell, and when daylight approached the next morning, it turned them off.

This highly sensitive device operated by slight variations in light is now at work in many branches of industry. It matches colors, sorts fruit and vegetables and does many other tasks that place it in the class of thinking machines.

HYPERSENSITIVENESS—I

Hypersensitiveness is at the root of many, if not all cases of asthma, hay fever, urticaria (hives) and certain types of eczema.

As long ago as 1839, Magdendie, the famous French scientist, observed, during the process of his experiments, what is today recognized as the phenomenon of hypersensitiveness.

Magdendie reported that certain dogs he experimented with died suddenly when repeatedly injected with egg albumen. Egg albumen ordinarily is not injurious to dogs.

In 1894 Flexner observed the same phenomenon and reported that "animals that had withstood one dose of dog serum would succumb to a second dose after a lapse of some days or weeks."

When, at the beginning of the present century, the use of diphtheria antitoxin became widespread these isolated observations assumed special importance.

Diphtheria antitoxin is derived from horses' blood. In the treatment of diphtheria it is injected into human beings.

Since the diphtheria antitoxin is a foreign substance and since it is injected into the human body, it is likely to create within that body a state of hypersensitiveness.

Should, at some future date, the occasion arise requiring the use of horse serum, the sensitized individual might suffer serious consequences, and under rare circumstances die of anaphylactic shock, that is, shock due to hypersensitiveness.

Lest this historical analysis lead to undue alarm and frighten the reader on the use of diphtheria antitoxin, we can reassure him that the present day diphtheria antitoxin has been purified so that practically all but the absolutely essential foreign substances are removed, and that physicians who administer antitoxin do so in a manner which tends to obviate any kind of shock.

Furthermore, even where a patient is found to be hypersensitive to horse serum, he can be desensitized, and guarded against shock.

The Robot Plowman

SCIENTISTS, in building robots, those soulless machines designed to free men's hands from the bondage of labor, have not neglected the farmer.

The farmer, of course, benefits along with the rest of humanity from the radio and similar machines of this age of mechanical wizardry, but a new device has been built for his especial benefit. Of course, it has only been demonstrated as yet, and it may be many years before it will be seen on the farms of the country, but it has been shown to the public, and it worked.

It is the robot plowman. Imagine having a mechanical man to perform that most tedious of farm tasks, the spring plowing.

At the University of Nebraska college of agriculture there recently was demonstrated a remarkable tractor that ran by itself and successfully plowed a 20-acre field.

The operator guided it once around the field, leaving a furrow around the outside edge of the field to be plowed. Then he started the engine of the tractor, with one front wheel of the tractor in the furrow already plowed, and a metal guide on the front of the tractor did the rest.

The robot tractor chugged along the constantly diminishing area, and did not stop until the whole field was plowed. Then it came to rest in the center of the field, and the operator went out and drove his robot plowman into the garage.

This mechanical plowman has a device attached to it that prevents accidents. An automatic cut-off stops the tractor instantly in case the plow hits a rock or other obstruction while the machine is in operation or whenever the front wheel leaves the plowed furrow that guides it around the field.

The device used to operate the robot plowman was similar to that used to operate ships, trains and airplanes without a human being about them. The robot, through the levers that serve as arms and hands, starts, stops and steers this wonderful machine, while sets of wheels, magnets and electric cells inside it supply the energy for it to perform its task.

This particular mechanical plowman was started by the operator pulling a lever. It could easily be made to start at a command by spoken words. Science could build a machine that would do the plowing while the farmer sat on his porch and shouted his orders to the robot across the field.

Huge harvesters, threshing machines, reapers, corn cutters and shockers and other farm implements could be operated by this robot just as easily as the tractor was operated in the demonstration at the University of Nebraska.

Farm engineers have produced special electric headlights for tractors and flood lights for the fields to enable farmers to work after dark during their rush season, but this device merely makes it possible for the farmer to do his own work for more hours each day. The robot, however, when the age of mechanical men comes into its own, will do the work for him.

Scientists are constantly at work to lighten the burden of farm tasks and to increase the yield from the soil. New devices that produce all most miraculous results are now in use, and more are foreseen as scientists continue their experiments.

The use of the ultra-violet ray, that source of mysterious power, is constantly being broadened on the farm. Machines spreading "artificial daylight" in poultry houses make the hens lay more eggs, and increase the growth of poultry for the market.

The use of these rays, directly or indirectly by subjecting fertilizers to them, is speeding up productivity of the soil, doubling the size and number of the crops.

Speaking of the Weather--

by CHARLES TALMAN

of the U.S. Weather Bureau

Every week the U. S. Weather Bureau issues an illuminating sheet called the "Weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin." This is published chiefly for agricultural interests, but it contains much of general value.

There is a summary of the week's weather, with a statement of outstanding abnormalities, particularly of temperature and rainfall over appreciable areas. Paragraphs about weather in Argentina, England, India and Australia are added. The special telegraphic summaries from the several states or sections of the Weather Bureau show the details of the week's weather and its effects on crops and farming operations. A table gives the weeks rainfall and temperature and the departure from normal for 150 stations and two maps show the actual amount of rainfall.

The temperature map is a peculiar one. Shaded portions indicate regions warmer than normal and unshaded regions cooler than normal, while the lines of the map indicate the extent of the departure; e. g., three, six, nine degrees plus or minus. Hence the region having the highest figures is not likely to be the warmest, nor is that with the lowest figures necessarily the coldest.

In the preparation of this bulletin the officials in charge at the designated central weather bureau stations in each state collect information weekly from many special and cooperative meteorological observers and from a large number of weather and crop correspondents in respective states relative to prevailing weather conditions and their effect on farming operations and crop development. These officials make weekly telegraphic reports to the central weather bureau office at Washington, D. C., where the information is tabulated and summarized and a synopsis issued for the entire country. This is released each Wednesday at 10 A. M. and is published in the Weekly Weather and Crop Bulletin above described.

In addition there is published a local weather and crop summary at each state center containing information in more detail as to conditions prevailing in the respective states. There is also published at New Orleans a "Weekly Cotton Review" in the cotton belt as a whole, and at Chicago a similar report pertaining to the principal grain-producing states.
